

Nameoki road workers charge layoffs are retaliation

By PAT HAYLUTZ
for the Press-Record

Claims of harassment follow a decision by Nameoki Township Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelic to lay off nine road crew workers on Friday. According to Mehelic, budgetary restraints force him to lay off the workers, with the intention of calling them back (according to seniority) in the event of a heavy snow.

Several of the workers, however, contended Monday night after the Nameoki Township Board meeting that Mehelic is harassing them for their testimony before the county grand jury which indicted Mehelic in May.

The highway commissioner was indicted on charges of official misconduct and theft of services in connection with alleged misuse of township labor and equipment.

"He told us (during the investigation) heads would roll. 'One worker to be laid off reported.' When all of this is over, I'll tell everyone about this man," Mehelic defended his decision, saying that harassment has nothing to do with the action. "It's a matter of procedure," he said. "It's better to lay off people now than to run out of money during a big snow and not be able to do anything about it."

Mehelic also contends that contract negotiations in the spring put him in a budgetary bind. "They (the workers in the union) wanted a big raise and I told them that they might have to be laid off if they demanded the raise," Mehelic said. "They agreed to take a raise with the possibility of layoffs, saying that they would be better off on unemployment."

Road crew workers claim that Mehelic purposely hired four full-time workers and one part-time worker, who worked June through August, to exhaust the budget, but Mehelic argues that the extra manpower was essential for blacktop work done in the township. "We needed two crews," Mehelic stated. "If you look at what those workers made before they joined the union (in July) it doesn't amount to a hill of beans," he said.

All workers were paid out of the Special Hard Road and Road and Bridge funds, and the amount estimated to have been paid to the five extra workers is $10,000 to $15,000. Mehelic intends to keep five road crew workers and is abolishing the dispatcher's position and a mechanic's position. Nine people will be laid off as a result of the action.

Trustee W. Lee Adams agreed with the workers, saying that the five people were hired to force layoffs. "The man (Mehelic) hasn't shown up at the (town board) meetings for three months," he said. "We have dedicated people working there who were budgeted to be paid for the entire year. I think he did it (hired the extra workers) to lay these people off," he contended.

Trustees also approved Adams' suggestion that $2,000 intended for environmental cleanup in the township be withheld until the road crew fulfills its cleanup obligations in October. The money usually is forwarded to Mehelic before the month begins, but Adams suggested that the money might not be used for environmental cleanup under the present conditions. "I don't know how he's going to do it (the environmental cleanup) by laying off people, but he'll get the $2,000 when the work is done," he said.

In other business, Trustee Helen

Hawkins requested a formal apology from trustees who had made disparaging remarks about her during the last regular meeting. "I think that events have shown that you unjustly accused me and you could be gentlemen about this and just apologize," she said.

Supervisor Harry Briggs did not offer an apology, but suggested that Mrs. Hawkins submit a written request for the apology.

Trustee Adams had suggested that a motion by Mrs. Hawkins to drop a lawsuit against previous Supervisor Louis Whitsell was "a political deal," and Mrs. Hawkins had indicated that the suit was a waste of time and that the remarks against her were "very silly."

Nichols sues for ponds

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

Blocked once again by government, William Nichols lashed out this week through a lawsuit and a Press-Record interview, asserting that allegations he offered money for a proposed county zoning change are not true.

"I never offered any money to 'Shang' (Greshouse). I was asked... (by someone) for $1,000; I was shaken down," Nichols contended in his first comment on the matter since it became public.

Walter "Shang" Greshouse, president of the Metro-East Sanitary District, and Madison County Supervisor of Assessments James Barton were indicted by county grand jurors; Barton's case later was dismissed, but a fall trial is planned for Greshouse.

Nichols has been granted immunity from prosecution.

Nichols sought rezoning of ground for construction of catfish ponds on his property near Bend Road and east of Route 393.

The ponds involved in the earlier dispute made the news again Monday when Nichols' attorney, Marvin Goldenhersh, filed suit on behalf of Nichols and Trans Truck, Inc., of East St. Louis against Nameoki Township Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelic.

The two-count lawsuit alleges that Mehelic stopped Nichols from completing the catfish-raising ponds by imposing a weight limit on Mueller Road, which leads to Nichols' property. The weight limit makes it illegal for trucks to move the excavated dirt out.

"They have shut me down completely for six weeks," Nichols told the Press-Record. He explained that he contracted with Trans Truck to move dirt from the area of the ponds to SCA Services' landfill near his property.

Associate Judge Wendell Durr is to conduct a hearing Oct. 7 on a request that a restraining order be issued preventing enforcement of the weight limit.

Nichols appeared at Monday night's Nameoki Town Board meeting to complain about the weight limit, but received no satisfaction. Mehelic was absent. At no time during the meeting did Nichols say he planned a lawsuit.

Mehelic told the Press-Record yesterday that he was not aware of any lawsuit, but is glad the issue will be (Continued on Page 7)

Users debate sewer options

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

About 130 residents currently served by the Lansdowne treatment plant attended a public hearing Monday night and expressed concerns over sewer installation costs and available grant monies.

The hearing, sponsored by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, was begun by an hour long presentation by George Sallwasser, president of Horner and Shifrin Engineering firm.

Sallwasser's company conducted a cost-effective study of two alternatives for the Lansdowne treatment area. The first is the Granite City alternative, whereby the sewage from Lansdowne would be pumped to the Granite City wastewater treatment facility. The second option is the Lansdowne plan, which would involve the updating of the Lansdowne plant to a secondary facility.

The costs involved would total $5.8 million for the Granite City alternative. The Lansdowne option would cost $11.4 million.

Both projects are eligible for 75 percent grants; the Lansdowne update is eligible for federal money and the Granite City regionalization is eligible for state money. However, the federal percentage of money available for a grant may go down.

Richard J. Carlson, director of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) explained the percentage problem in a letter read at the hearing by James Leinicke of the IEPA. He said he feels 75 percent grant money for the Lansdowne does not appear to be available. On Oct. 1, 1984, the level of federal grant funding will be reduced to 55 percent of eligible costs.

"At the present rate of grant awards, our availability allotment of federal funds will in fact be exhausted well ahead of the Oct. 1, 1984, deadline. To have a reasonable chance for federal 75 percent funding, MESD (Metro-East Sanitary District) would have to complete engineering plans and specifications, local financing arrangements and a user charge system about the beginning of the calendar year 1984.

"This does not appear to be reasonably possible, particularly since federal assistance is not available for the cost of design work. A project funded federally would, in other words, almost certainly receive 55 percent grant assistance."

Leinicke said the deadline for the state grant also would be early in 1984 (Jan. 1). However, no design work would have to be completed by that time. "All we would need is a verbal agreement," said Leinicke. "We could find another use for the money, but we prefer to spend it down here (Lansdowne area)."

Leinicke said the Lansdowne project is of top priority because it is the last facility in the state that has no plans in the works for improving its primary treatment system.

Despite the IEPA's opinion on grant availability, Sallwasser's firm contends that the Lansdowne alternative is the best plan.

Sallwasser said earlier that his firm could complete the engineering designs for the upgrading of Lansdowne within nine months. However, he said he was (Continued on Page 7)

Berry considered dangerous

Federal, state and area authorities in Illinois, Missouri and Indiana are continuing to search today for Marvin Dale Berry, 54, a former Granite City and Mitchell resident, who escaped from federal custody Wednesday after attending the funeral of his mother in St. Louis.

Federal authorities said today that Berry is armed and should be considered extremely dangerous. He is 6 feet, 2 inches tall and weighs 190 pounds.

"His hair is now more grey than brown and he also has a full beard and mustache," a spokesman for the U.S. Marshal's office advised. At the time of the escape, he was wearing a beige short-sleeve shirt, dark blue trousers and brown shoes.

Asked whether Berry is believed to be still in the bi-state St. Louis area, the federal spokesman said, "We are not that far into the investigation and we are still investigating leads."

Berry was serving a 20-year sentence at the Federal Penitentiary at Terre Haute, Ind., for armed bank robbery and assaulting a police officer in the January 1981 holdup of the Columbia (Ill.) National Bank.

Accompanied by two correction officers, Berry was brought to St. Louis from the penitentiary for the funeral of

Pack 13 hosts School Night for Scouting

St. Elizabeth Cub Scout Pack 13 held its annual School Night for Scouting meeting, last week, in the church cafeteria. Paul Mills, chairman for this year to include, Mrs. Fran Haack, den meetings coordinator, Mrs. Dorothy Votoupal, publicity, Claude Kessler, treasurer, and Richard Haack, committeeman-at-large.

Mills also introduced Den Two leaders, Mr. Janet Kromray and Mrs. Roberta Myers, and new assistant Den One leaders, Mrs. Pat Buehrer and Mrs. Barbara Gregory. The boys of both dens received awards earned this summer.

Mark Yehling, scouting coordinator, addressed the parents present, explaining the aims of scouting and commending them for their interest in their sons. Many new scouts were signed up after the meeting.

The boys of Den Two have finished their Wolf year and are preparing for their Bear year. All received their blue Bear scarf. During the summer they had worked on the Special Summer Pack Award, the Cub Scout World Conservation Award, and finished their Wolf book.

Receiving awards were: David Hyers, day camp patch, one year pin, World Conservation award; Christopher Votoupal, day camp patch, one year pin, one silver arrow point; World Conservation award; Stephen Schaus, one year pin, day camp patch, special summer award, World Conservation award; Bruce David, one year pin, day camp patch, special summer award; Terry Yoboy, one year pin, day camp patch, special summer award, two silver arrow points, World Conservation award.

Also Curt Kessler, one year pin, day camp patch, special summer award, and World Conservation award; Billy Mowery, one year pin, day camp patch, special summer award, and World Conservation award; Bryan Kromray, one year pin, day camp patch, special summer award, World Conservation award.

Scouts of Den One have moved into their Webelos year, receiving their Webelos scarf and colors. The following boys received awards, Doug Buehrer, perfect attendance pin, two year pin, and summertime pack award; Stanley Gregory, two year pin, summertime pack award; Robert Haack, two year pin, perfect attendance pin, summertime pack award; Shawn Hayes, perfect attendance pin, two year pin, summertime pack award; Stanley Kromray, silver arrow point, two year pin, summertime pack award; Matt Loftus, perfect attendance pin, two year pin, summertime pack award; David Mills, perfect attendance pin, two year pin, summertime pack award, and Jason Scrum, two year pin.

DUI CHARGE AFTER THREE-WAY MISHAP

Sтивен G. Липе, 21, Edwardsville, was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and failing to reduce speed to avoid a collision in the 2900 block of Fortune Drive at 9:20 p.m. Sunday.

His northbound car hit a parked auto owned by Don Whitehead, 2916 Fortune Drive. The latter vehicle was knocked forward, crossed the street and hit the parked mobile home of Gary Osborne, 2925 Fortune, authorities said.

Job training for veterans

New rules put in place by the U.S. Department of Labor will guide administration and development of employment and training programs for veterans under the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA).

Assistant Labor Secretary for Veterans' Employment and Training William C. Plowden Jr. said the new programs "will enable us to do a better job of equipping the more than 550,000 still-unemployed Vietnam-era veterans to compete effectively in the job market."

Through JTPA, which replaces the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act, veterans and other specified groups are eligible for job training programs at the state or local level. The new law goes into effect Saturday.

States or designated areas of states called Service Delivery Areas, may apply for grants to conduct job training and placement programs for veterans in their locales. The funding is available through the Veterans' Employment and Training service.

To obtain maximum benefit from limited resources, states applying for the grants must provide matching funds from public or private sources; discretionary federal money is generally available for such purposes.

Delivery areas are not required to match funds. However, the Labor Department will provide a "prudent in selection" to those service delivery area proposals which demonstrate plans to use local resources in the proposed programs.

A total of $7.5 million is available for fiscal 1984 beginning Oct. 1, 1983, for state grants; the minimum amount available to any state is $500,000.

An additional $1.8 million is available for special, nationwide programs, bringing the total to $9.3 million available for veterans' programs under JTPA.

The new rules also clarify the definitions of veterans eligible to participate in JTPA programs; these include veterans with service-connected disabilities, those of the Vietnam era and those recently separated from military service.

Also included in the new rules are additional requirements for development and management of programs under Title IV, Part C, of the law.

CRASH HALTS POWER

A vehicle struck a guy wire of an Illinois Power Co. post on Ridgeland Avenue between E. 23rd Street and Lincoln Avenue, halting electrical service to a large area east of Madison Avenue early this week.

CIHSM publishes listing of local museums and historical agencies

More than 500 museums, historic sites and history-oriented organizations are listed in the "1983 Listing of Local Museums and Historical Agencies in Illinois" published by the Congress of Illinois Historical Societies and Museums (CIHSM). The "Listing" has been distributed to CIHSM member organizations and to other organizations and listed. Single copies are available free upon written request while the supply lasts.

The 538 museums and organizations now listed constitute practically all such groups presently active, according to a CIHSM spokesman. More than 40 percent-217 in 80 counties-are members of the Congress.

Cook County-with 130

entries-has the largest listing, followed by DuPage County with 38, Sangamon County (Springfield area) with 25, and Lake County with 22. Only three of the 102 Illinois counties-Hardin, Perry and Wabash-are not represented.

The Congress of Illinois Historical Societies and Museums was organized in 1967 under the sponsorship of the Illinois State Historical Society. The Congress is composed of local historical societies, genealogical societies, museums of all kinds and other not-for-profit educational organizations throughout the state involved in museum or historical agency work.

The primary goal of the Congress is to facilitate the exchange of ideas and methods in all areas of museum work and historical administration between local, ethnic, and subject-oriented groups in Illinois. Regional meetings and statewide meetings are held each year. CIHSM is the official association of Illinois museums for the Midwest Museums Conference of the American Association of Museums.

Anyone wishing a copy of the "1983 Listing of Local Museums and Historical Agencies in Illinois" may write: 1983 LISTING, Congress of Illinois Historical Societies and Museums, Old State Capitol, Springfield, Ill., 62806.

New laws to protect state's firefighters

A trio of bills aimed at helping Illinois firefighters with pension matters and expanding disability benefits has become law, according to State Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) who supported the legislative package as chairman of the Personnel and Pensions Committee. Legislation to add cancer to the list of occupational diseases for which Illinois firefighters can receive disability benefits was signed by Governor Thompson last week, along with a second bill aimed at protecting the fiscal integrity of the Downstate Firefighters Pension Fund. The third bill provides that a firefighter is entitled to 10 days notice before any disability hearing, and permits her or she to be present at the hearing with counsel. "House Bill 376 changes the Downstate Firemen's Article of the Pension Code to specify that no creditable service may be granted for service as a volunteer firefighter," Wolf said. "I believe it is important to handle pension matters with a degree of conservatism, and this new law will ensure that those funds are adequately protected by law."

House Bill 1077 entitles firefighters to receive occupational disease disability benefits if they develop cancer during their service. The bill earned overwhelming approval in the Illinois House. "As technology continues to develop more and more man-made chemical materials and other substances, firefighters are exposed to a frightening number of carcinogens," Wolf said. "If firefighters continue to incur these risks, I think it's crucial that we provide them the security of knowing that they are entitled to pension benefits, should they develop cancer as a result of their service."

$10 airplane flights are offered by Ozark

Tickets still remain for scenic flights at Ozark Air Lines "Open House" from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 1. Plans have been finalized for the event at Ozark's operations and maintenance facility, west of the Lambert terminal on Airport Access Road.

Ozark's maintenance building is located next to Highway 70 on the access road east of Cypress Road, and west of the terminal. Scenic flights will be available on an Ozark DC-9 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. The 30-minute flights over the metropolitan area will depart on the hour. Tickets at $10 per person are available at Ozark's city ticket offices from Sept. 21 to 30 and at the open house. City ticket offices are located in the Downtown Mansion House Center, Northwest Plaza and Clayton. Ticket buyers will be able to designate flight times. A DC-9 also will be on static display for the public to board throughout the day. A DC-3, the model flown by Ozark until 1968, will be on loan from Southern Illinois University-Carbondale for the public to see.

Inside the Ozark maintenance building, tours will be given to a new maintenance hangar, stores warehouse and engine shop. Ozark's inflight food service will be featured, along with a model of the McDonnell Douglas Super 80, scheduled for delivery to Ozark in 1984. Sperry Rand will display its new radar system on the Super 80. An engine cutaway showing the internal makeup of the DC-9 engine will be shown by its manufacturer, Pratt & Whitney Corp. of Connecticut.

Ozark will exhibit historical highlights of its 33-year history.

SIUE Dean's List includes several Quad-City residents

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville had 289 students qualifying for the Dean's List for the summer quarter. Perfect averages were compiled by 121 students.

To qualify for the Dean's List, a student must maintain a grade point average of 4.5 or better and have 12 hours calculated (B is equivalent to 4.0, A to 5.0). Students qualifying for the Dean's List from Granite City are: Janet L. Adams, Deborah Ann Buer, Rosemarie S. Cann, Deanna Marie Degonia, Nancy Sue Mitcho, Douglas S. Griffith, Brenda D. Hart, Robyn S. Johnson, Michael Knobloch, Scott Edward Laird, Douglas R. Leith, Mark A. Maynard, Jackie Marie Morris, Elizabeth A.

Morrison; Gail Ellen Mueller, Barbara K. Patterson, Judy A. Pfeiffer, Lewis J. Phillips, Julia Lyn Rowden, Burt A. Thompson, Paula L. Turpenoff.

Other students on the Dean's List included Jeffrey Q. Davis and Karen L. Bush, both from Brooklyn, and Ida Lee McIntyre, Venice.

Senate approves higher funding for saving energy

The U. S. Senate has approved a modified amendment co-sponsored by Senator Alan J. Dixon which would increase energy conservation funding at $27.2 million.

The amendment to the Interior Appropriations measure, sponsored by Senators Paul Tsongas (D-Mass.) and John Heinz (R-Penn.) was originally designed to increase energy conservation funding to the fiscal year 1983 level of $54.4 million.

Following a compromise with the opposition, however, the amount was halved and approved by voice vote.

The House version of the bill contains the full $54.4 figure which will be reconciled with the Senate version in conference committee.

Since the Interior Appropriations measure that was reported out of committee was more than $100 million under the budget ceiling that the Senate imposed on itself, the amendment Dixon co-sponsored would not put the Interior Appropriations bill over budget.

This amendment will not bust the budget," Dixon said. "Conservation is the best alternative energy source currently available for the Midwest," he said, and "the programs are run for the benefit of local communities and more importantly, for the consumer."

Stan brown is postal employee of the week

Stanley Brown, philatelic clerk at the Granite City post office, has been nominated for employee of the week by Hazel Showman, officer-in-charge. She nominated Brown after she received compliments on Stan's service and philatelic (stamp collecting) knowledge, and a letter of commendation from a satisfied customer in Chicago.

An excerpt from the letter reads, "In this day of often impersonal service, it is nice to be able to report a group which excels in excellent service. "Stan Brown, at the Land of Lincoln Philatelic Center, has been very helpful whenever I have questions and has provided prompt, courteous and accurate service on all orders."

The officer-in-charge said that Stan is very active in community affairs, particularly in working with young adults through the Elks Lodge. He organized the recent Career Day Program, which placed graduating students in the positions of city officials.

House Bill 1077 entitles firefighters to receive occupational disease disability benefits if they develop cancer during their service. The bill earned overwhelming approval in the Illinois House.

"As technology continues to develop more and more man-made chemical materials and other substances, firefighters are exposed to a frightening number of carcinogens," Wolf said. "If firefighters continue to incur these risks, I think it's crucial that we provide them the security of

Adopt policy on school politics

Granite City Community Unit School District Nine officials ought to consider adopting a policy barring administrators from involvement in board election campaigns. There is no such policy at present.

A ban is needed because the board hires and sets salaries for those who run the school system. The administrators ought not hire themselves and determine their own pay, but in effect that is what they would be doing if they were the ones picking the non-salaried board members.

Those who criticize a Sept. 17 campaign meeting attended by three administrators are right, in some respects. But the critics must also ask whether they themselves helped cause the meeting by threatening numerous administrative firings if there is a major change in board membership Nov. 8.

If the 1983 election is shaping up as "doomsday" for them, some administrators believe they have nothing to lose by actively urging board continuity and aggressively opposing what they see as upheaval.

Still, it would set the wrong precedent to intermingling politics and the school administration. Board members might find it hard to be objective about the merits of various administrators if they had received campaign support from some of them.

Legislators and bureaucrats were wrong when they changed election procedures and virtually eliminated the relative stability that was provided by staggered, overlapping school board terms. In the past, only two or three of the seven were chosen at one time.

A full five members are being elected to Illinois school boards this fall, and in later elections voters will select either four or three of the seven. Continuity will be in almost constant jeopardy.

We do not feel that administrators deserve lifetime security without regard to the caliber of their performance.

We do say that, with so many board positions on the ballot, simultaneously, circumstances not directly related to administrators' ability could bring overnight changes more sweeping than voters may have had in mind.

St. Clair stoplights needed now

The Nameoki Road intersection with St. Clair Avenue on the east and Iowa Street on the west again merits public attention. It is "protected" by two stop signs, regulating Iowa and St. Clair, with no impediment to Nameoki vehicles (except a lot of congestion and danger).

Installation of traffic lights has been under study for a number of years but always seems to be delayed for design revisions or other reasons. Nobody is against the plan, but it never becomes reality.

Particularly with this fall's increase in traffic in the vicinity of Granite City High School, located just a block away, the lights need to be given urgent new priority.

Northbound motorists have the easiest task but must be watchful for vehicles trying to leave or enter St. Clair. Those driving northbound also face extreme difficulty turning left into a store parking lot due to the southbound traffic volume.

Westbound motorists who need to turn left take their life into their own hands in trying to beat northbound vehicles during the few seconds when there is no one driving south or trying to turn left onto St. Clair.

Southbound drivers have a relatively clear path in the outer lane if they wish to continue south. If they want to make a left turn, there is usually a backlog of several vehicles trying to do the same, and each has to react rapidly during the turn to avoid oncoming northbound traffic.

Eastbound motorists on Iowa might as well forget about it if they want to go straight across Nameoki Road and enter St. Clair, or if they want to turn left. Nameoki traffic in both directions is intimidating, and the rush-hour intervals between north and south offer only two eastbound chances—dim and none.

Even if an eastbound driver merely wants to turn right, he or she probably is going to encounter a delay of several minutes if timid (intelligently so) drivers are in the line ahead and want to cross Nameoki Road.

Busy is an inadequate descriptive word; this intersection truly is "the pits." City officials need to install stoplights and turn signals, yesterday.

Driving is easier in 31 states

As we noted in an earlier editorial, Illinois has joined the Nonresident Violator Compact which keeps motorists arrested for minor traffic violations in another state from having to post cash bond or spend time in jail until bond is posted.

Motorists arrested in another member state need only sign the ticket and go on his way. Later, the Illinois secretary of state's office will notify the violator where and when to reply to the charges near his own home.

When that editorial was written, the list of the 31 states in the compact was not available. Since then, State Rep. Sam Vadalabene, sponsor of the legislation to join the compact, has been kind enough to supply us with a list. Wolf also pointed out that State Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) was a co-sponsor of the legislation in the Senate.

States where Illinois motorists can sign tickets and leave without posting bond are Alabama, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, the District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland and Minnesota.

Also Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, South Dakota, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia and of course, Illinois.

States considering membership in the compact in the near future are Arizona, Massachusetts, Oklahoma, Utah, Vermont and Wyoming.

We hope all states of the union will join members. It is senseless to confine a motorist to jail until so-called future of the legislation in the Senate.

States where Illinois motorists can sign tickets and

Members of the Press-Record staff asked readers if they had formed an opinion on Secretary of the Interior James Watt, who has recently been criticized for remarks he made about members of a government committee.

Jerry Robins, Granite City

"I guess he's all right. I don't have anything bad to say about him."

James S. Miller, Granite City

"Not really. Of course, it's all politics as far as I'm concerned. He's done a good job."

M.F. Hartmann, Granite City

"Get rid of him."

Virginia Crow, Granite City

"Well, I don't know about his politics — only what I have heard the news media make of his remarks, but I don't think it was too offensive...except I think what he said about being a 'cripple.' I felt it was very bad taste to make a remark about physical conditions. For a man in his (Watt's) position, to me he's used very poor judgement in his expressions."

Feels U.S. should not abandon El Salvador

To the Editor:

The United States should not abandon El Salvador. It must provide a defense against the leftist guerrillas for the interim. But we are only fooling ourselves if we believe the answer to eliminating the Marxist threat in Central America is through free elections, dialogue, and counter-insurgency operations shared up by the military and economic aid.

Those who always sympathize with the Communist cause say it is poverty and violation of human rights that cause these problems. These people are dreamers. Human violations and poverty have existed in the world throughout the ages and there is nothing that will ever eliminate them entirely, no matter how much we try.

We often hear that the U.S. Should not support suppressive anti-Communist governments who are fighting the Marxists because of their dismal record in upholding human rights. But isn't it better in the name of our own national interest to support these governments against an oppressor who plans to oppress us also?

It is time that we stop talking about how much democracy there is in Latin America and begin to understand America's strategic interests are at stake.

History is pitiless. It makes no allowance for nations, however civilized they may be, if they refuse to recognize the prevalence of predators, and to protect themselves against attack. Virtue, innocence, human rights, cultivation of the arts, and good will toward men have never been sufficient in themselves to guarantee survival.

The chronicles of the past are punctuated with the records of states and civilizations which lost their will and capacity to survive.

A nation that does not defend itself will not survive — and, furthermore, does not deserve to.

Madison Democratic group support for Sasyk

To the Editor:

In response to some of the articles (Forum letters) that we have read in the papers about our mayor, Mike Sasyk, we feel that it is time that we speak out against some of the statements that we feel are false.

First of all, it has been said that we have a mayor who has not done anything for his people. We find this very hard to believe in view of the many benefits that we enjoy and take for granted. Ask yourself who was instrumental in getting the citizens paved alleys, free trash pickup, modern plastic trash containers and good clean streets to drive on.

Who got the grant for the low income people to fix their homes and lowered the real estate taxes? Also, this same man realized that a city-owned shopping center would benefit the city by bringing in revenue now from sales taxes and later, when the bonds are retired, there will be more income from rents.

A city-owned ambulance service was started to save the citizens money and provide quicker service when needed.

The senior citizens have also received benefits from this mayor, who (writers say) does nothing. He got the grant for the senior citizens' bus and installed fire and burglar alarms in their homes without any charge to them. He was also instrumental in getting the business places modernized to improve our city.

We feel sure that there are a lot of silent people out there who feel the same way we do. Come on people, speak up for the mayor who has done so much for the city and its citizens.

If Mayor Sasyk should choose to run again, we will be behind him 100 percent, as the facts speak for themselves. As far as we are concerned, Mike has been the best mayor Madison has had.

For the last 12 years, we have had a decent, honest, caring person as mayor of our city.

BACKUPS FROM SEWER DAMAGE MANY HOMES

To the Editor:

I read with interest an article in the Press-Record on Sept. 22.

A resident of Colgate Place asked the city to pay $540 for building repairs to his home after raw sewage flooded his residence June 3 and 4.

Please keep us informed as to the outcome of this case. If the city pays this bill, I have one for $5,500 to present, and I'm sure many other residents will be lined up at the City Hall to present bills for damage also.

Granite City is in a swamp. My advice is, "Keep your basement plug it."

Sept. license plates expiring

Illinois Secretary of State Jim. Edgar is reminding automobile owners with September license plate registrations that midnight Friday, Sept. 30, is the deadline for displaying the new purple 1984 stickers in the upper right corner of their rear license plates. Stickers may be purchased over the counter at Secretary of state facilities Springfield and Chicago, and at more than 1,400 financial institutions, including 617 banks, 180 savings and loan associations, 16 credit unions and about 600 Chicago area currency exchanges. Effective Saturday, anyone driving a car with an expired orange September 1983 sticker will be subject to a fine for improper registration. If you have questions regarding license plate registrations, call the Secretary of State's toll-free telephone number, 1-800-253-8889.

"At the rate we're pumping gasoline this morning, we are liable to be closed before the weekend — not as a part of a formal shutdown move, but from a lack of gasoline," a Granite City service station owner told the Press-Record today. Gasoline dealers around the Quad-Cities found themselves besieged by motorists wanting fill-ups when they opened for business this morning. Many were congested last night after a Missouri shutdown decision was announced. Mild panic swept through the St. Louis area last night after it was reported that 800 members of the Missouri Gasoline Dealers Association had voted to close stations from midnight last night until next Tuesday midnight. Dealers have cited rising prices from suppliers while retail prices are frozen.

Revised copies of the $22,970,000 bond ordinance, railroad agreement, official statement and other statements and reports were received by Venice officials during the weekend and are being studied by the city council. It was learned today from Mayor John E. Lee, Dr. Lee has been active in the purchase proposal since being elected in April 1957 and City Attorney Harry E. Hartman and council members have been active in the plan for over four years.

Jimmy Stuart

Jimmy Stuart is elected DeMolay master counselor

Jimmy K. Stuart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy E. Stuart, 2404 Morrison Road, was elected master counselor at James Stuart Chapter Order of DeMolay's regular meeting last week. He is a senior at Granite City High School and a member of Nameoki Methodist Church.

He also is active in district and state DeMolay events holding the office of State Illustrious Knight Commander of the Illinois State Priory of Knighthood, and District 16 Junior counselor. The Order of Knighthood is an appendant organization of older DeMolays working within the DeMolay framework. It is for active DeMolays between 16 and 21 years of age, who are organized into a subordinate unit known as a "Priory" with its own officers and ritual.

Jimmy has the "Founder's Membership Award" for enrolling five young men in DeMolay; the "Blue Honor Key" for 10 young men becoming DeMolays; and at the State DeMolay Conclave on the campus of Western Illinois University, in August was awarded a "Senior Salesman Award" plaque for his membership activities.

He has completed the "Leadership conference. He holds the "Legion of Merit" award from Illinois DeMolay and is a "Representative DeMolay." The "R.D." award is the highest self achievement distinction a DeMolay can earn. It signifies that he has analyzed his strength and weakness in abilities, knowledge and skills.

Also elected were Neal A. Mize, senior counselor; Robert T. Ishum, Junior counselor; Matthew J. Cotter, chaplain and Alan S. Forbes, treasurer. The elected officers and other appointed officers will be installed in a public ceremony at the Masonic Temple on Saturday evening, Oct. 29, at 7:30.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT TO ADDRESSES GROUP

The Alton Chapter of Professional Secretaries International will hold its 28th annual seminar Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to noon at the Holiday Inn in Alton.

Speaking at the seminar will be Dr. Harn A. Weber, president of Judson College, Elgin, Ill. The topic of the ceremony will be, "Don't Give Up, In Out."

He has served the American Baptist Church of America on its Board of National Ministries, the Department of Evangelism, the Great Lakes Council on the Ministry, Ministers and Missionary Benefit Board and as a pastor-counselor of the American Baptist Men.

The registration fee for the seminar is $15 for working personnel and $5 for others. For more information, interested persons may contact Alene Perdue at 1-258-2387 or Barbara Ducks, 1-462-2714 or 1-466-4837.

Prairie State 2000 fund offers training to jobless

"Unprecedented steps" are being taken to aid jobless Illinoisans and new and small employers. "This is the kind of legislation citizens expect from their elected officials. What they, and I, will expect are results," Gov. James R. Thompson said this week.

Thompson signed two bills during a Chicago news conference, Senate Bill 1000 and House Bill 2290. Both were sponsored by Senate President Philip Rock and House Speaker Michael Madigan.

Under SB 1000, unemployed workers will be able to participate in retraining programs at qualified institutions, such as community colleges and other schools, under a fund established by the measure. Major funding will come from contributions made by workers' employers.

Employers can make quarterly payments to the Prairie State 2000 Fund.

Those dollars will be used in a voucher system for retraining programs for qualified unemployed workers.

Persons who qualify for the program must have been employed by a participating employer for at least four consecutive months and premiums for the fund must have been paid by an employer for at least six of the 12 months before a lay-off worker applies for program benefits.

If an unemployed worker qualifies for the plan, he or she could be eligible for between $500 and $1,000 in tuition aid, the governor said.

Employers will be allowed to deduct 125 percent of their contributions to the 2000 Fund from their state income tax payments under provisions of the measure.

Pension funds and other retirement systems will be able to purchase up to $7.5 million in stock that will be available under the program's guidelines.

Overseeing the operations will be a seven-member board of directors that includes the state treasurer and six public members, each to be named by the governor.

If pension fund systems purchase stock from the fund, two trustees from the pension fund system that purchases the stocks will be named to the board of directors.

In the other bill approved by the Governor, the existing Illinois Industrial Development Authority and the Illinois Environmental Facilities Financing Authority will be combined, creating a new capital development organization that will be called the Illinois Development Finance Authority.

The two authorities presently are responsible for selling bonds to finance commercial development in Illinois.

The new authority will be responsible for several other functions, including issuing low-interest, long-term loans for small businesses.

In addition, the bill calls for creation of the Industrial Revenue Bond Insurance Fund that will insure bond sales, making the program more attractive to investors.

A $10 million loan from state pension funds will be used to provide the financial foundation for the 2000 Fund and will be paid back at 10 percent interest per year over the next 20 years from the general revenue fund.

Also, high technology firms will be able to tap the resources of the Illinois Venture Investment Fund created under the measure, a step intended to help new high-tech companies in Illinois.

One other economic development fund is established under HB 2290. The Illinois Land Bank Fund will encourage development in economically strapped regions of the state by helping the purchase of potential development sites by private businesses.

Both bills take effect immediately.

Bids opened for Blue Waters pump

A Cahokia firm is the apparent low bidder on a job to build a pumping station on Blue Waters Ditch off Highway 157 between Cahokia and Centerville in St. Clair County.

Haydon Construction Company's bid of $3,668,520 was the lowest of six bids received by the Army Corps of Engineers, St. Louis District.

The work consists of constructing the Blue Waters Ditch Area pumping station, including outlet structure, siphon breaker vault and cofferdam. Installation of government-funded pumping units, relocation of the levee road, preparation of substitution foundation, installation of pressure relief valves, stone protection, steel sheet piling and an underseepage drain system also are part of the construction work.

The contractor is expected to complete the work within 1,800 calendar days after receiving official notice to proceed.

Bomb group holds sixth annual reunion

The 397th Bomb Group with its 596th, 597th, 598th, 599th bomb squadrons will hold its sixth reunion Sept. 30 through Oct. 2 at the Holiday Inn, Tampa International Airport, Tampa, Fla.

Former members of this World War II Ninth Air Force B-26 Marauder group are being asked to contact the 397th Bomb Group Association, Nevin F. Price, secretary, Post Office Box 1786, Rockville, Md., 20850. The phone number is 1-301-460-4488.

This reunion will commemorate the 40th anniversary of the formation of the 397th Bombardment Group (Medium) at MacDill Field in Tampa on April 20, 1943, and a homecoming visit to now MacDill Air Force Base is planned.

The last B-26 group to go overseas during WW II, the 397th soon became known as the "Bridge Busters" for combat missions which began on April 20, 1944. At the peak of its combat history, the 397th struck the enemy's communications during the Battle of the Bulge (December 1944 through January 1945), and received a Distinguished Unit Citation for a mission on Dec. 23, 1944, when the group withstood heavy fire and fighter attack to sever a railway bridge at Eller, Germany, a vital link in the enemy's supply line across the Moselle River. This mission cost the group many planes and men.

not sure whether the plans could pass federal and state approval within the remaining three months.

He said the average user cost for the Lansdowne alternative would be $7.20 per month. This cost could be slightly higher or lower, depending on the percentage of people who pay their bills.

The average cost for the Granite City alternative would be about 50 percent higher or $10.80 per month. Salvasser emphasized that these figures would only be valid if a 75 percent federal grant is received. If a 50 percent grant is received, he agreed with IEPA officials that costs would be basically the same.

Besides lower user fees, Salvasser said his firm preferred the Lansdowne alternative because of its energy efficiency. The plant would be equipped with trickling filters, which would use about 30 percent less electricity than the Granite City activated sludge process.

Carlson's letter, on the other hand, outlined assets in the form of new projects that will be covered by grant money if the regional sludge project is undertaken. The projects would not only include the regionalization funding, but sewer extensions for Fairmont City and Glen Carbon. Carlson also stated that there would be improvements in Granite City sludge disposal facilities.

It also offered "significant secondary benefits over and above meeting the primary needs." It relieves MESD of the very considerable administrative and legal burden of operating wastewater treatment facilities. Operating and maintaining upgraded secondary treatment facilities under current federal and state regulations would be a more complex administrative burden than anything yet in MESD's experience."

Other secondary benefits included the view that a regional project would protect the state's investment in the Granite City treatment facilities by "providing an adequate revenue base to support its long term operation and maintenance at relatively stable sewer rates."

In conclusion, Carlson's letter said that the "greatest obstacle to overcome in implementing a regional approach is neither technical nor economic, but political. A workable, fair regional agreement needs to be developed that would assure Granite City of adequate revenues to provide treatment services and, at the same time, assure a stable rate structure for the regional service communities and provide them with a fair voice in the regional treatment administration."

The probability of the 11 communities having a voice in setting the rates and administering the plant seemed to be a major citizen concern at the hearing. Fred Bath of Madison said he is aware of the problems that Granite City has with its plant. "The plant presently has no capital funds for improvements. This happened because the user charges are lower than what they should be to maintain the plant. If Granite City controls the rates, what's to stop the city from making up needed money with high charges to Lansdowne area users? We need to have some management at the plant to represent our needs."

The Rev. John Henry Williams also questioned the way rates would be established. "Granite City is going to raise the rates after we hook up," he contended.

Leinicke answered these comments by saying that an inter-governmental agreement would be worked out between the groups and it would detail the rate structure.

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk raised concerns over the percentage of grant money. "The IEPA told us (the entities currently served by Lansdowne) were going to have a choice as to which way we wanted to go. If we go in one direction we get a 55 percent grant; if we go in another direction we get a 75 percent grant. They call that a choice? That's no choice at all.

"The bottom line is what's going to be best for our people. All we're looking for is a recommendation as to which plan is going to offer the best price and longest term agreement for the people."

Terrance McMillan, superintendent of the Granite City facility, said he felt his plant was better equipped than MESD to handle the secondary treatment of the Lansdowne sewage.

"Granite City regional wastewater treatment plant has been in substantial compliance with all environmental regulations and gained several noteworthy 'pats on the back' from an independent consulting firm and the IEPA itself."

McMillan said he concluded from the reports that "Granite City is providing a reasonably priced, cost-effective service to the existing regional customers of the plant and will continue to do so in the future."

Walter "Shang" Greathouse, president of MESD, said he feels his organization is in a "no win situation. No matter what we do we're criticized. The best thing we can do is get out of the sewer business."

"But we want to do what's good for most of the people in the area. If we go to Granite City, we'll be expected to collect all of the money for the 11 municipalities. How can I say I'm going to collect all the money when I know I can't?"

"If we're going to get into the sewage treatment business, let's get it all the way to Lansdowne. But if we're going to get out of the sewage treatment business, I don't want to hear another word of surplus commodities. Let them (Granite City) have the headaches."

This was the last public hearing before the local governments make their decision about whether to choose. No future meetings have been set up, as yet, but it appears that a decision will have to be made before Christmas.

ahead with the project. He has contended all along that he never needed permission from the county, but sought the zoning board approval as a way of assuring neighbors he did not intend to use the property for a landfill.

He spoke Tuesday of getting Environmental Protection Agency approval to dump material from pond areas for landfill cover, and Soil and Water Conservation District authorization to move dirt on a daily basis.

County Zoning Administrator Paul Hawkins gave him permission to start with a five-acre pond, Nichols said. He told the Press-Record he felt he had the permission he needed and began the work this summer.

When the weight limit was placed on Mueller Road, Nichols said, a representative of Trans Truck talked to Mehlisch and offered to widen Mueller to a dual-lane road and maintain it, all at the expense of Trans Truck and Nichols. "Mehlisch said down," Nichols reported.

At least Nichols has acknowledged that it is his township road by offering to repair it, Mehlisch told the Press-Record Wednesday.

Discussing the Metro-East Sanitary District easement, which is a factor in keeping him from having dirt moved "the easy way"—across the canal—Nichols remained bitterly. "Any farmer who would give them (MESD) an easement (in the future) is nuts!"

GC residents may get cheese, butter Friday

Only eligible persons residing within the boundaries of Granite City Township qualify to receive free cheese, butter and corn meal from the latest shipment of surplus commodities to be distributed Friday, Sept. 30, at the Salvation Army Community Center, 3007 E. 23rd St.

The food items, which include about 8,500 pounds of cheese, a lesser amount of butter and "some corn meal," will be distributed beginning at 9 a.m. Friday and continue until all the food is gone, Maxine Rutter, Salvation Army office coordinator, advised.

A total of 1,710 people was served from last month's allotment and all food was allocated by 1:30 p.m., Mrs. Rutter said.

To be eligible to receive free commodities, persons must be a head of household or spouse, have verification of Granite City Township residency (such proof must show both the name and address) and a Social Security number.

An affidavit also must be signed showing the household income is within the prescribed guidelines.

Officials have changed one ruling from last month, Mrs. Rutter explained, noting that persons who are not eligible to receive food themselves may pick up the commodities for an elderly, infirmed or homebound person unable to come to the Salvation Army Community Center in person.

Those wishing to pick up food for another person must show the same proof of residency for the eligible recipient and have that person's Social Security number, she added.

Last month, no one was allowed to pick up food for another person, despite eligibility.

Household income must be within the following guidelines to qualify for surplus food:

tested in court, since Mehlisch does not believe Nichols ever had county permission to dig the ponds, or to tear up the roads with the heavy equipment.

The suit against Mehlisch seeks in excess of $15,000 in each of its counts, one count on behalf of Nichols and the other on behalf of Trans Truck. It charges that the company is being prevented from meeting provisions of its contract with Nichols.

Nichols said the suit does not seek punitive damages—only actual losses. He related that it took all the money lost in failure to fulfill contracts from the day the weight limit was imposed until the day the limit is rescinded and work can resume.

He said he questions whether the township has a right to control the road, since the township has refused to maintain it for at least 15 years. Mueller Road has never been dedicated as a township road even though the township has done some work on it.

Historical club to hear Stevens

The Old Six Mile Historical Society will hear Granite City Clerk Robert W. Stevens talk about "Granite City Reflections" on Monday.

The group will meet at 7:30 p.m. at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road.

'Las Vegas Night' for Bubblemasters

The Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club will hold its annual "Las Vegas Night" party, starting at 7 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 1, at VFW Post 1300 Hall, 2044 Washington Ave. The public is being invited to attend.

Proceeds from the event will be used to provide holiday gift baskets at Christmastime and assist other endeavors of the diving club, according to Pete Fourcault, project chairman.

Nichols commented.

He said he has all necessary permission to do everything but to build an engineer's bridge and move the dirt across a Sanitary District easement to the landfill. He stressed that he is being blocked from doing that, even though he and SCA Services own both levees at the drainage area.

That is what started the original litigation, Nichols said. Nichols said Greathouse told him at a meeting of the County Board of Supervisors and Drainage Committee that "anyone who crossed that thing (easement and canal) would have to pay for it."

Greathouse was not clearly for what the money would be used.

After meetings with certain county officials, Nichols said, he agreed to pay $1,000 for permission to dig the ponds and move the dirt over the canal.

Greathouse says he gave back $500 he had received from Barton, and voted against the requested zoning change as a member of the county Zoning Board of appeals; other appeals board members also voted negatively.

Barton says $1,000 was described as a political contribution and Nichols asked for no favors; all of the money would go in campaign treasuries, he says.

Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber obtained court-ordered immunity for Nichols in return for testimony.

Despite the controversy and the trial preparations, Nichols said, he pushed extra $1,000 in play money, the chairman advised.

In addition to the "play" period, which concludes at 11 p.m., an auction for a variety of prizes will start at 11:15 p.m. Saturday, it was explained.

Boccie ball is bowling with an Italian accent

Boccie anyone? The Italian-American Club sponsored a boccie ball tournament last Sunday behind the Lone Acres Tavern, despite the rain. The games were attended by about 75 loyal boccie fans.

The games featured both a men's and women's divisions, with both groups having two member teams. The men's group worked under single elimination rules, the women used double elimination rules.

Aside from the boccie playing, those in attendance sipped beer, sampled Italian sausage sandwiches and sang songs from the "old country."

Boccie has been defined as the Italian equivalent of bowling. Bowling at pins began in the third or fourth century A.D. in Germany. The game took place as a religious ceremony.

Parishioners of certain churches rolled a ball at a pin called a "heide" or heathen. If the thrower knocked down the "heide" it signified he was leading a good life and was capable of destroying the heathen. A miss indicated a more faithful attendance at church services was advisable.

Boccie was developed from the game of bowls in the Italian Alps about 2,000 years ago. It involved the underhand tossing of stones at an object, differentiating it from the rolling of stones.

Boccie is still played in Italy today and is the chief bowling game. It is controlled by the Unione Federazioni Italiane Bocce, and is especially popular in Piedmont (where the first organization was formed in 1898) and Liguria.

The game is also played in Italian communities throughout the United States and Australia, and has a large following in South America. The first world championships of the game were held in Genoa, Italy in 1981.

Boccie is a game for teams of two to four players. It is played with wooden or composite balls, measuring about 4 1/2 inches in diameter. The court may be dirt, gravel or concrete and averages 60 feet in length and 10 feet in width. A wooden enclosure may surround the court.

The object of the game is to throw the balls from one end of the court toward a target ball at the other end. One point is scored for each ball that is closer to the target than the opponent's. Each team has four balls, with different colors for teams. To begin, a smaller white ball, or "pallino," is thrown out by the first designated player. The teams then try, throwing underhand, to get their balls as close as possible to the target. The game allows players to knock out opponent's balls that are close; this is called boccie-out.

The side boards may be used as carom shots. Game is 12 points.

The Granite City tourney was the first of its kind in the area. The entry fee was $5 per person with the entry fees being used to cover the cost of the winner's prize.

Bill Crevits and Silvio Vitali were in attendance at the tourney last Sunday. They could be considered touring pros when it comes to boccie.

Crevits started playing boccie when he was 14 years old. His partner, Vitali has been playing for 30 years. "The great thing about boccie ball is that it can be played by people of all ages," said Crevits. "There's a 78 year old man here today that's playing boccie, and he could be considered middle-aged, for the sport, on the other hand, my son Chris, who is only eight years old, has already started to play the game."

"My partner has probably won more boccie tournaments than any man alive today," Vitali estimates he's won well over 200 tournaments in his career. He said some first prizes have been trophies but most come in the form of money.

Crevits said he and his partner participated in about 20 tournaments a year. "It used to be a game played exclusively by Italians, but the now the game has a good mixture of all ethnic backgrounds."

"Although the rules are fairly simple," the game is highly skillful. It takes years of practice to play well."

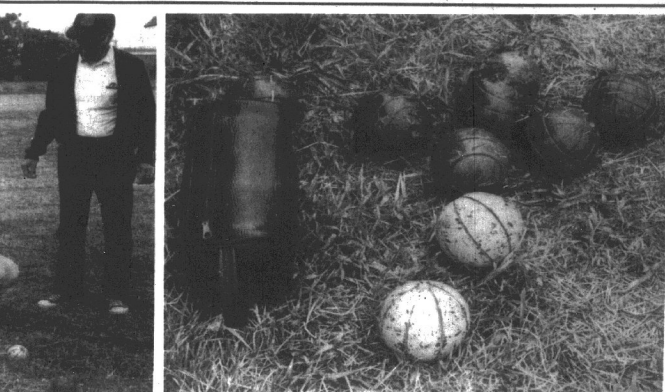

Crevits said a large part of the game relies on the player's ball and his technique in throwing the ball. "Unlike bowling, there are no holes in these balls, so they must be custom made to fit your hand. And there are two different types of techniques that are used for the throw. Most women roll the ball as in bowling, but men men left the ball, which is similar to a high arched pitch in softball."

The Italian-American Club currently has 48 members. The club officers are: John Svezia, president, Ed Broyles, vice-president and Joe Lucido, treasurer.

Water company reports damage

Vandals tampered with a white over blue 1980 Ford truck, owned by Illinois American Water Co., while the vehicle was parked at Len's Amoco service station, Pontoon Road and Franklin Avenue, a representative of the utility firm informed police at 2 p.m. Monday.

All eight hags on the right rear wheel of the vehicle had been twisted off, which could have caused the rear axle to come out and the wheel to fall off while being driven, it was reported.

At 6:40 a.m. Tuesday, the water company reported a plastic water line had been cut near a water meter at the site of a house under construction at 3901 Benton St. The damage created an undetermined amount of water loss, reports said.

Currently, members of six unions are refusing to work for Illinois-American Water Co., during a strike by Laborers' Local 459 of Belleville and Local 100 of East St. Louis, a fact which was noted on the reports.

GCS security guards catch two in truck

Three Granite City Steel security guards were credited for catching two alleged burglars on the plant's Blast Furnace Division parking lot on Edwardsville Road this week.

Officers went to the parking area and found two youths in a 1976 Ford pickup truck with a Missouri license plate in custody of the security guards. The vehicle allegedly was reported stolen from St. Louis. The plant employees alleged the suspects had opened the door to a 1979 Ford pickup truck with an Illinois license, which was parked in the lot.

Rodney J. Boyer, 18, of St. Louis, and a 15-year-old youth, also from St. Louis, initially were booked for criminal trespass to land, with Boyer later charged with burglary.

In a court appearance at 2 p.m. Monday, Boyer pleaded guilty to criminal trespass to land and was sentenced to serve 30 days in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

He entered an innocent plea to the burglary charge and bond was set at $20,000. A mittimus was issued and he was transferred at 9:45 a.m. Tuesday to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville. The 15-year-old was placed in the Madison County Detention Center in Edwardsville.

Downtown workers being asked to roll up their sleeves Friday

Downtown workers and anyone else willing to give for a good cause are being asked to sign up for the second annual blood drive of the Tri-City Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The drive will be conducted from 2 to 7 p.m. Friday at the local chapter headquarters, 21st Street and Edison Avenue. The need for blood is critical, Gwen O'Guin, director of the chapter, said. According to Dolores Vogler, chairman of the Red Cross volunteers, blood donations are down 5 to 7 percent throughout the country.

The summer-long heat wave has had a negative effect on the number of donations during past months. Chapter representatives hope the response from the downtown community will help the drive meet its goal of about 83 pints.

Those wishing to give may call the Red Cross office at 452-7184 to schedule a time slot in advance to cut their donation waiting period. Donors, however, will be welcome any time during the drive Friday, even if they have not made a prior appointment.

Persons may give blood every 56 days. Donors should be 17 or older and meet certain health restrictions. Those over age 66 years need a recent statement from their doctors to give blood. Red Cross personnel will be available to answer any questions potential donors may have.

The entire donating process takes less than 45 minutes, with the actual collection process taking only about five to 10 minutes.

"There is no chance of anyone getting AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome) by giving blood, absolutely none. We use disposable needles for each donor, so no needle is used more than once," Charlyne Lenox, of the Missouri-Illinois Regional Blood Services, stated during an earlier blood drive organizing talk.

Ministry Association meets Monday

The Rev. Louis Frick, president of the Quad-Cities Ministerial Association, will conduct the group's regular monthly meeting Monday, Oct. 3, at noon. The group will meet in Pascal Hall in St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Ministers are being asked to go through the cafeteria line first and share lunch together. The program chairman for the year is the Rev. James Brown of St. Peter's United Church of Christ. He said the group will begin plans at the meeting for the community Thanksgiving services. "Clergy persons committed to the ministry of Christ in our community will find the fellowship and programs of the Ministerial Association most helpful," said Rev. Don F. Pierson, spokesman for the group. "Getting to know our community's needs and resources is a strong asset in the leadership ability of a minister. Then too, the fellowship with other Christian pastors provides us with an understanding of the approaches to ministry."

Grassroots Government

Upcoming meetings of Quad-City area governmental taxing bodies include:
Madison School Board (special meeting) 7:30 p.m. today, Sept. 29, at 1707 Fourth St.
Venture School Board (closed session) 7 p.m. today, Sept. 29, at 6th-Broadway
Chouteau Town Board 7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 3, at 687 N. Thorngate Drive

Enters plea for alleged battery

Brian Harms, 17, of 2207 Lee Ave., informed police at 10:50 p.m. Monday that he had been injured by a relative who started a fight at the home.

Harms said Jerry Franklin Strahan, 29, of the same address, became angry and hit his face with a broom stick. The older man then grabbed Harms by the hair, striking his head against the kitchen sink and kicked him in the ribs several times, Harms alleged.

Reports noted Harms had a bloody nose and lips, swelling to the forehead and a bruise on the left side of his body.

Strahan was arrested a short time later at the Wayside Tavern, 2160 Washington Ave., on a state charge of battery. He appeared in the Granite City court at 10:40 a.m. Tuesday, entered a guilty plea and was fined $250 and costs.

Disturbance on parking lot

Between 30 and 35 people were in the vicinity when officers responded to a fight call in the parking lot outside Nash's Lounge, 3675 Namook Road, during the weekend.

Charles Payne, 19, of 2218 Edwards St., alleged Ray M. Israel, 20, of 2442 Adams St., had thrown a pipe at him, which struck the side of his auto.

Israel counter charged that Payne had struck him in the face with a beer bottle. Reports noted that Israel had swelling to the lip and left eye.

Both Payne and Israel were arrested and charged with battery.

It's A Way of Life...

To the Champions, baseball's more than a sport

Phillies Capture Eastern Division Crown

By STEVE WHITWORTH

It seems if you grew up in the Champion family, you just kind of fell into sports naturally. And it seems that the Champions who got involved with baseball have a knack of meeting up with successful people.

After all, Keith Champion played in the minor leagues in 1962, the year his parent club, the St. Louis Cardinals, went on to win the world championship. And his father works as a scout for the National League Eastern Division champs of 1983, the Philadelphia Phillies.

Conrad "Babe" Champion, played against Whitey Herzog during his own high school career, and later coached high school baseball in Granite City, where he still teaches. Babe's son, Kirk, played with Dave Stieb and Bill Lyons at SIU-Carbondale. The youngest son, Keith, worked at the Cardinals and Danny Cox while catching in the Cardinals' farm system this year.

In fact, the family has worked in just about every aspect of sports, from playing and coaching to officiating and working in the front office. If these guys could clone themselves, they could probably run a whole team, or a whole organization—of nothing but Champions.

"My father played baseball with Salty Parker, who is now a major league coach," Babe says, "proving that the family tradition started at least two generations ago. Babe's father, Frank, still lives in Granite City."

Experienced Granite City base ball fans have good reason to remember Babe as far back as 1948. That was the year that he played on the only state championship baseball team that Granite City High School has ever had. He was a sophomore left fielder; he modestly suggests that he was "lucky enough" to be chosen as an all-tournament player in the state finals. The team that Granite City defeated in the championship game was New Athens, whose star center fielder was Whitey Herzog.

But, it seemed Babe's luck had gone sour the next year. He contracted tuberculosis in the state finals. A year of school. His doctors told him he would never play ball again.

At last, Babe was lucky enough to regain his health. And he found a way to stay in the game he loved. Granite City's coach, Lawrence McCauley, allowed Babe to coach third base. And by the time he graduated in 1951, Babe had coaching in his blood. He returned to coaching high school ball in 1960, and was varsity head coach at Granite City South for seven years during the 1970s.

In the meantime, along came the family. First, there was his wife Sue. As much a baseball fan as anyone in the family, she now works for the Granite City Park District. Then came a daughter, Robin. Robin graduated from Granite City South in 1972. She attended Louisiana State University, and is now living in Houston.

Then, the sons started coming. First there was Brett, who attended Granite City South, like all the Champions. He graduated in 1973, and later graduated from SIU-Carbondale. He and his wife, Diane, now live in Indianapolis, where he works for a national fraternity, Phi Sigma Kappa.

Next up was Kirk. He graduated from high school in 1975. He pitched for both SIU-Carbondale and Southwest Missouri State University. On the field at Carbondale, he played with future major leaguers Stieb, Lyons and George Vukobratovic.

Off the field, he worked as a student assistant to Gale Sayers, who was then athletic director for the Salukis. Kirk went on to become pitching coach at SMSU, where he got his degree. He also coached American Legion ball in Springfield, Mo., before finally moving on into the head coaching position at Rend Lake Junior College in Ina, Ill.

Lastly, there was Keith, who graduated from high school in 1977. He, too, played ball and received his degree at SMSU. He was an honorable mention All-American as a catcher there, but was never drafted by a major league team. Instead, he put his degree in graphic arts to use, going to work for Cable News Network in Atlanta. It was while he was working there that he finally got a call from the Cardinal organization. Within 24 hours, he joined the Cardinal rookie team in Erie, Pa. Last year, Keith caught for the Card's A ball team in St. Petersburg.

All the boys certainly benefitted from the early exposure they got to athletics through their father's coaching and playing softball. "We've been playing since Day One," says Keith. "It seems like I've always been around the field."

Kirk says, "We spent our family vacations going to games. We went to a lot of places. I didn't know any different. I thought every family did the same things we did."

Baseball isn't the only sport Babe is involved with. In fact, if you've ever seen him, it's most likely been on the football field. He's a college football official—an umpire, to be exact—in the Missouri Valley Conference. And on Sundays when the Big Red play at home, you're likely to see him on the sidelines at Busch Stadium, helping the NFL officials keep time on the field.

And if you like to catch a few local baseball games during the spring and summer, chances are you might run into Babe there. In his capacity as a scout for the Phillies, Babe roams across the better part of Illinois and he possibly can catch you, always on the lookout for talented ball players with professional potential.

He says his job is to see as many players as he possibly can each year. He watches athletes, talks to their coaches, and makes recommendations to his superiors. "It's called getting out there and beating the bushes," he says with a laugh. "And you'd better be honest about what you see or you'll just hurt yourself."

Babe looks for qualities such as speed, a good arm and a good attitude. "You can improve a kid's hitting," he says, "but you can't teach him to be a pitcher."

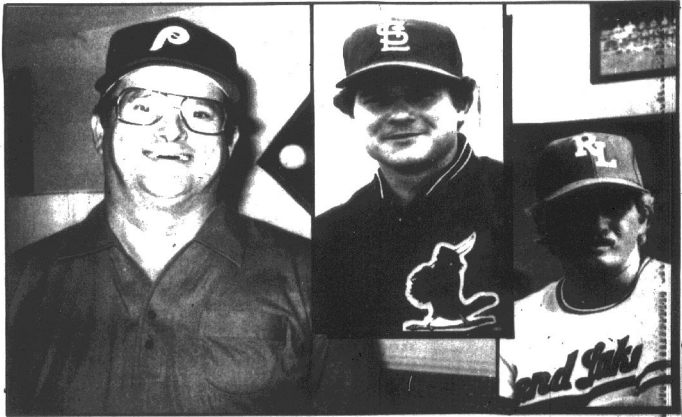

When looking at a pitcher, consistency and velocity are the keys. "If a kid doesn't throw 65 mph, he probably won't be drafted," Babe says. He says most of the scouting of fielding and hitting is done before the game, while the players are taking practice. "During the game, you watch the pitcher," he adds.

Babe also stresses that several major league teams look for players according to position. There has to be a need for a player of a certain position before he will be drafted or signed.

Keith can certainly testify to that. Although college credentials were impressive, no team really needed him when he graduated.

"Several teams said they'd contact me if they needed a catcher," Keith says. But, none of them did, and Keith must still be working for Ted Turner's outfit in Atlanta if the call from the Cardinals hadn't come. "I was asked to be in Erie within 24 hours, and I made it. They needed catchers, so they gave me a shot."

It's like Kirk Champion tells his players at Rend Lake: "Somebody gets to the big leagues." The Warriors must be listening to their young coach, because in 1983 they won their first ever sectional championship. And their star pitcher, Tom Fullerton, was drafted by the Cincinnati Reds.

CHAMPION FAMILY. Above, Conrad "Babe" Champion, a talent scout for the Philadelphia Phillies stands in front of some of his baseball memorabilia. In the top inset is Keith Champion, now with the Cardinals' St.

Petersburg farm club. In the bottom inset, is Kirk Champion, baseball coach at Rend Lake Junior College in Ina, Ill. Baseball has always been a way of life for the Champions.

"My job is to try to get the kid onto the next level," Kirk says. "And, of course, to encourage them to get their degree down the road."

Kirk has been exposed to a good many successful coaches for his tender age. "My Dad has a good baseball mind," he says. He also named his high school football coach, Wayne Williams, as a good motivator. He worked with the highly successful Itchy Jones at Carbondale and with the respected Bill Rowe at SMSU.

Kirk definitely got to be a judge of talent when he played at Carbondale. "I jumped in a situation over my head, ability-wise," he says. "There were 16 or 17 guys on that club who signed with major league clubs."

Among them was Dave Stieb, star hurler of the Toronto Blue Jays who started the 1983 All-Star Game for the American League. In those days, Stieb played center field. "He had a great arm," Kirk remembers. "He could throw strikes from center field. I really think he still hasn't come into his own as a pitcher."

But, Kirk is not the only Champion who has been fortunate enough to observe raw talent on the way to the majors. This spring, Keith got an eyeful of a young hurler named Danny Cox. "You could see Danny had potential," the young catcher says. "He throws hard, his ball moves well and he's intelligent. He has good size and that makes him intimidating. He's the kind of kid who goes out there and physically tries to beat you."

One of Keith's big thrills in spring training was the day he caught Jim Kaat, the man who pitched 25 years in the major leagues. "Kaat had such amazing control, he didn't really need to throw hard," Keith recalls. "He was just great about everything. I called the game and he was just totally cooperative. He was fun-loving, sincere, helpful and articulate. Most of those guys are the same way, like Dane Iorg."

If you accept Babe's theory, it's precisely those sort of encounters that make the athletic life so rewarding. "Sports have been great for the kids and I," he says. "We've gone to places we never could have gone to, otherwise. You make so many good friends and have such great camaraderie. You just meet the nicest people this way."

In Soccer Action Warriors, Kahoks meet tonight

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

of the Press-Record

If Collinsville High School's soccer coach Jim Stranz has his way, this evening's Kahok-Warrior soccer game will just be another game, another game Stranz hopes his Kahoks can win.

"As far as I'm concerned, it's just another game on our schedule," Stranz said Wednesday afternoon. "We try to typically downplay the game."

"Naturally, there's a lot of hype between the two communities about the game. Especially since Granite City has had the upper hand at this point," Stranz said.

Warrior coach Gene Baker, on the other hand, has a different theory on the game, as different as opposite sides of the playing field.

"We never regard this game as just another game," Baker began. "Recordwise this will be a game of the two better teams in the area. It should be more competitive and because it'll improve from it."

The Warrior coach explained that it was important for his players not to think it will be "just another game." Rather it will give his players the opportunity to perform under pressure against a good team, something Baker deems as very important by the time post-season play begins.

"I've never looked to Collinsville and even the North-South games as just another game," Baker said. "I've always told my players that those are the best games to improve. Whether we win or lose, we can learn from a game like this one."

Going into Thursday's game the Warriors are 8-0-1, while Collinsville will be sporting a 3-3 record. The Kahoks have lost to both Quincy-Nor and Quincy Senior and Rosary High School of St. Louis.

Comparatively, the Warriors, just last weekend, defeated Quincy Senior 4-1.

Going into tonight's game, the Kahoks will be without Doug Smith, a midfielder. Smith broke his leg in the Quincy-Nor game two weeks ago.

Granite City will also have its share of injuries. Listed as questionable for the game are junior Mike Dennis, a forward, and sophomore Scottie Blason, a link. Both are having muscle spasms in their backs and legs.

The last time the two teams met was in the Southern Illinois at Edwardsville Sectional. In that game, the Warriors emerged 2-1 victors. The Kahoks were state champions the season before.

All things considered, the Warriors have to be favored, even though the game will be played in Collinsville. For the fourth straight week, Granite City has been the top rated school in Illinois according to both the coaches' and writers' polls of the Chicago Star High School Soccer Newsletter.

Collinsville is rated sixth in the coaches poll and fifth in the writers' poll.

Other ratings include (in the coaches' poll) Evanston second, Quincy-Nor third, Glenbrook North fourth, and Fremd, fifth.

In the writers' poll, Quincy-Nor is second, followed by Evanston third, Fremd fourth, and Collinsville, as mentioned, fifth.

St. Charles, the team which will host this year's state tournament, is rated 12th in the coaches' poll and 10th in the writers' poll.

Tonight's game, at the Collinsville Football Bowl on Vandalia St., begins with jayvee action at 5:30 p.m.

On Wednesday Stars beat up Lincoln Land College, 10-1

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The way Granite City Center's soccer team played Wednesday game with Lincoln Land Community College of Springfield reminded Stars Coach Larry Petri of Saturday's 1-0 win over Lincoln College.

Even though the Stars won, they squandered about many golden opportunities for goals. The Stars took 20 shots on goal, but only one made it to the net.

Wednesday started the same way for the Stars, but Petri ended it quickly. He replaced six of his starters for about 10 minutes to give them a chance to think about their mistakes. When they came back in, the scored three quick goals to help guide GCC to a 10-1 killing of Lincoln Land.

"We had numerous opportunities to score in the first half, and we missed them," Petri said. "They players started to get frustrated again, so we pulled some of the starters. When they came back in, they got the job done."

Petri really didn't say much to the six players, he simply wanted them to think about what they were doing. While the starters were thinking, GCC goalkeeper Joe Lemaster tripped a Lincoln Land player in the penalty zone, giving the visitors a penalty kick. Marco Boasso scored on the kick to give Lincoln Land a 1-0 lead at 22:35.

With about 20 minutes gone, Petri put the starters back in. Soon, momentum went to — and stayed with — the Stars. At the 31:25 mark, Ben Nolan made a short cross pass to Tim Dean, who booted the ball in the goal to tie the game.

Nolan put the Stars ahead with an unassisted goal from 10 yards out seven minutes later. A little over a minute later, Phil Popmarkoff fired a shot from 30 yards out for the third goal of the half. Rich Hensler picked up the assist with a short pass.

"They knew they had to score goals if we were going to win, and they responded. They made a few changes, and it was all over. The three goals took a lot out of them," Petri said.

From there, the GCC reserves took over. At 48:02, Lance Parker kicked a penalty kick to tie the game. At 50:00, the ball bobbed out of his hands. Forward Rich Sharp saw the opportunity and kicked the ball in the middle of the untended goal.

Midfielder Jim Doyle took charge for the next two goals. Doyle scored on a penalty kick at 62:31, and a minute later, Doyle scored on an unassisted goal from 25 yards out.

Four minutes later, Dan Ritchie scored from 30 yards out, and Rob Leehr fired in a long shot. Ralph Ferguson and John Reinger scored the other two goals.

"It's a drastic change since our loss to Lewis and Clark. We hope the momentum we built in this game will go into the weekend," Petri said. GCC plays at Hesston on Friday and at Johnson County Saturday.

"We got a few players in who haven't seen a lot of action, and I think that will help our bench strength. We improved on getting some set plays going and getting our fullbacks in the offense. We also tried to teach the forwards to fill up the gaps that they had been leaving. I think we have made some improvements," Petri said.

fellow Gateway East Conference winner, defeated Alton Marquette 2-0. Baker credits the improvements to youth programs and better coaching.

"I think Cahokia is a well-coached team. This is probably their most disciplined team they've had," Baker said.

With just 2:36 gone in the quarter, Troy Moore's pass towards the goal was headed by Sam Tate among a crowd of Comanches. However, Tate's header flew past goal keeper Dennis Miller for the goal.

Quick reactions continued to be an important factor for the Warriors in the third quarter. Mike Sikora took a shot at the goal, but the shot was quickly deflected off a Cahokia player. The deflection went right at Warrior forward Paul Macios, who fired it to Miller's right for the second goal with 9:40 left in the quarter.

The final goal needed quick thinking on the part of Moore. With a direct free kick 30 yards to the left of the goal, Moore saw his teammates group up eight yards away. Instead of kicking the ball to them, Moore appeared to be aimed for the near corner of the goal. Instead, he hooked the ball and the ball crossed the goal high to the far corner.

"We let too many high goals in," said Cahokia coach Bob Brehman. "You can't let the high goals go in like we did."

Meanwhile, the Warriors dominated every aspect of the game despite the defensive effort by Cahokia. Granite City got 15 shots compared to Cahokia's three, and Warriors had five corner kicks, all in the second half.

SIUE netters open fall season Friday

EDWARDSVILLE — The 1983-84 version of the men's tennis team at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville kicks off the fall portion of the season this weekend in a "who's who" meet in Clemson, S.C.

The Cougars, who feature four returning lettermen from last year's sixth consecutive NCAA-II national championship team, will lock horns with teams from Clemson, the University of Georgia, the University of South Carolina, Furman University, Wake Forest University, the University of Florida, the University of Illinois, North Carolina State University and the University of Minnesota. Action is scheduled to get underway Friday, with the championship match set for Sunday.

The tournament, grouping 64 singles players and 32 doubles teams against each other, will include the number one ranked college player in the country, Fredrick Pahlert of Minnesota.

Battling for the right to face Pahlert for the Cougars will be returning lettermen Doug Burke, Joe Vassen, Johan Sjogren and Monty Oppenheim, as well as newcomers Dave Delsen, Peter Moore and Young Min Kwon.

The Cougars' doubles teams, which return one of the best combinations in the country in Burke and Vassen, will also pair up with Sjogren and Delsen in the second position and

Moore and Kwon in the third slot. Following the Clemson Tournament, the Cougars will match forces with some in-state rivals as they attempt to defend their Illinois Intercollegiate Championship in Champaign, Oct. 7-9.

The Cougars' only home appearance of the fall season will be Nov. 4-5 when they host the Third Annual SIUE 7-Up Invitational Tournament at the Oak Hill Club in Belleville.

Warrior netters take it on the chin

GRANITE CITY — There's one major difference between Granite City High's girls' tennis team and Belleville Althoff's team. That difference proved to be the deciding factor in Althoff's 8-1 victory over the Warriors Tuesday.

The Crusaders, traditionally a girls' tennis powerhouse, play all year long. When they're not outside, they're inside at one of two Belleville area racquet clubs.

The Warriors, on the other hand, Coach Dick Harmon says, are season players. For the most part, they play only during tennis season. That lack of year-long playing is why Althoff defeated the Warriors Tuesday.

"We're improving," Harmon said. "Evidently, the girls don't think they played well tonight, but Althoff's a tough team. They're always tough."

"I think it's safe to say that we're going to start winning a few now. For the most part, I think we'll be able to play with most other teams," Harmon said.

Harmon said girls' high school tennis in Granite City the last couple of years has suffered because its coaches have not come from either of Granite City's two former high schools.

Harmon explained last year's South tennis coach, Paul Greve, is a teacher at Grigsby while the Steelers' coach, Larry Lipe, was teaching at Prather.

"Having the coaches on the premises is a positive factor," Harmon said. "Not having them here works the other way."

Both Paul and Larry did fine jobs with each of their teams last year, but having a coach on the premises really helps keep the tennis spirit," Harmon said.

Althoff coach Mary Kloess agreed and added another twist to the conversation.

"The fact that our girls play all year long makes my job a lot easier. Too, I'd venture to say that 90 percent of my girls have their own tennis pros where they practice," Mrs. Kloess said.

"If they're doing something wrong during a game, nine times out of 10 they'll work it out with their pros before their next match. I makes my job a lot easier."

Althoff made winning look easy Tuesday afternoon as they won all the singles matches.

In first singles, Althoff's Kim Lay zipped past Maria Lombardi 6-0, 6-2.

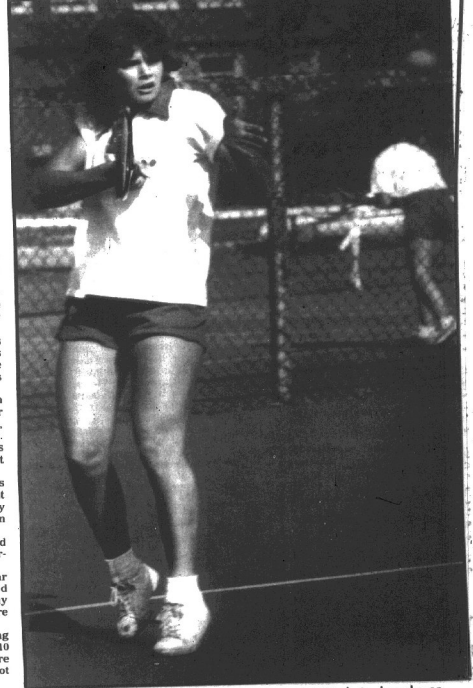

In second singles, Chrissie Grandcolas downed Angela Pinkston 6-0, 6-1.

The third singles score was the same as second. Granite City's Beth Sues fell to Debbie Grandcolas 6-0, 6-1.

Andrea Suarez won the most games against an opponent in singles competition. Suarez picked up three games in her 1-6, 2-6 fourth singles loss to Kelly Klapp.

Althoff swept the singles competition as Christie Heiligstein downed Granite City's Robyn Morelen 6-0, 6-1.

It wasn't until doubles competition when the Warrior girls picked up their win to avoid the shutout.

A LITTLE CRAMPED. Beth Sues, the third singles player on the Warrior tennis team, was a little cramped as she made this return to Debbie Grandcolas Tuesday during tennis action at Granite City High School. Miss Grandcolas went on to defeat Miss Sues 6-0, 6-1. Unfortunately, the rest of the team didn't fare much better as visiting Belleville Althoff won the pairing 8-1. (Press-Record Photo by Alan L. Gerstenecker)

In third doubles, the only match of the afternoon to go three sets, Maria Parra and Dawn Schwartz came back after losing the second to defeat Ann Gagen and Stephanie Mertik 6-1, 4-6, 6-1.

In second doubles, Sues and Pinkston dropped their match to Chrissie Grandcolas and twin sister Debbie Grandcolas 1-6, 1-6.

In second doubles Lay and Kim Grandcolas defeated the Granite City duo of Sherri Ousley and Lombardi 6-1, 6-4 to pick up Althoff's seventh win.

In fourth doubles, the Warriors' Dawn Bower and Laura Smolar lost to Kerrie Gassway and Laura Voellinger 3-6, 0-6.

The Warriors will attempt to get on the winning track this Monday as they travel to St. Jacob to take on the Knights. Action begins at 4 p.m.

Women Cougars host first tournament

EDWARDSVILLE — The first ever Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville women's soccer tournament gets underway this weekend with the accent on local talent. The Cougars, who will be making their 1983 home debut, will be taking on the University of Missouri-St. Louis, the University of Missouri-Rolla and Lindenwood College for the team crown.

The tournament, which gets underway Friday, will kick-off with a 4 p.m. contest between the Cougars and the Lions of Lindenwood. Friday's second game will begin at 6 p.m., matching the Rivermonsters against the Miners of Missouri-Rolla. The tournament's consolation game Saturday is scheduled for 9 a.m., while the championship game will be started at 11 a.m.

The Cougars, who were slow getting out of the starting blocks this season, collected their first win of the year last Friday in the opening round of the UMSL/Budweiser Tournament as they defeated claim fourth-place in the 10-team tournament.

Against MacAlester, the Cougars collected their first goal of the season as Deanna Eggs, a junior from Granite City North High School, scored on a break-a-way goal just 45-seconds into the game.

High-scoring Helen Robinson, last year's leading scorer on the SIUE squad, pounded in two goals later in the game, and Karen Whited provided the fourth goal for SIUE.

Following the SIUE Tournament, the Cougars travel to Rolla, Mo. to take on the Miners before returning to Cougar Field for an Oct. 6 contest against Principia College and an Oct. 8 battle against Maryville College.

Eight Granite Citians awarded in Olympics

Eight Quad-Citians were among the numerous athletes who competed in the Senior Olympics earlier this month at Southern Illinois University.

Among them are Ruth Allen, John Allen, Jim Campbell, Charles Schafer, Al Barnes, Jesse Filides and James Talley of Granite City and John Harshany of Madison.

Mrs. Allen, competing in the 70 to 74 year age group, finished third in each the 25-yard freestyle and 50-yard backstroke.

John Allen picked up three first places, first in the standing long jump, first in the discus throw and first in the shotput. Allen competed in the 60-64 year age group.

Campbell was the biggest winner of those Quad-Citians who competed, picking up four firsts, a second and a third place.

Competing in the 65 to 69 age group, Campbell was first in the one-mile walk, 50-yard breaststroke, 50-yard backstroke and 200-yard freestyle. He picked up a second in the 1.5 kilometer cross country run and third in the standing long jump.

Schafer picked up two ribbons in two different field events. In the three-mile bicycle race, Schafer finished first. In the one-mile walk, the Granite Cityan picked up a second place finish. Schafer competed in the 60-64 year age group.

Luke Schafer, Barnes was also a double winner, picking up a first and a second.

In the 50 yard dash, Barnes finished ahead of the other 55-59 year old athletes to win. In the one-mile walk, Barnes finished second.

Filides, competing in the 65-69 age group, finished third in bowling competition.

Talley was the 65-69 age group champion in table tennis.

Harshany, like Filides, limited his competition to bowling. Harshany, the oldest Quad-Citizen in competition, finished first in bowling.

Waterloo downs Madison kickers 4-0

By MICHAEL BARTELS
of the Press-Record

WATERLOO — After the match, Madison High School soccer goalkeeper Gary Campbell sat on the sidelines with what remained of an ice pack soothing his aching fingers. The game just completed was far from easy. The Trojans lost to Waterloo Gibault for the second time in the season Tuesday afternoon, 4-0.

"Campbell's game was a superlative one, though the score doesn't seem to indicate his effort. Gibault had 21 shots on goal for the afternoon. Campbell pulled out 17 saves. A hard afternoon's work. By the end of the game, he was noticeably limping, having taken so many goalie kicks.

"He gives 110 percent effort all the time," Gene Briggs, Madison soccer coach, said after the contest.

The game was a tough one all afternoon for the Trojans, who lost in their first meeting with Gibault, 6-0. "We did not want them to score as many goals as they did the first time," Briggs said, saying he wanted to get more offense generated. "We had a lot more shots this time but we weren't able to put them in," he said.

And Waterloo didn't score as easily this time. After a quick Waterloo goal to start the second half, the Trojans held Gibault scoreless until only four minutes remaining in the game when the Hawks looped a shot over the head of the committed Madison goalie.

Trouthout the contest the soccer Trojans showed their abundance of speed, clearly outrunning Gibault on both ends of the field. But the weakness of Madison is not their speed, but their abilities with the ball. "When it comes to skill," Briggs said, "we are only on second base at this time. We get beat because we get outskilled."

The offensive opportunities for the Trojans were few, with the team taking only four shots on goal only four. But Briggs is far from disappointed with the play and the effort of his team. "The kids do give a total effort," he said.

OVER THE TOP. Madison's Patrick Glasper seems particularly intent on getting to the ball in the second half of a game Tuesday afternoon in Waterloo against Gibault. Waterloo won the contest, 4-0, handing the Trojans their fourth loss of the season.

"We might not accomplish everything we want to but we try as hard as we can," Briggs said one of the things he respects the most about his team is that they never put their head down.

"Whether we're down two, or four, or six, we still get a full effort," he said. "You can't ask any more than that as a coach."

Braves whip Bethalto

The Coolidge Junior High football team made winning look easy in its first two games of the season. Last week, the Braves romped Bethalto 30-0 and then last night, Wednesday, the Braves rolled over the Trojans 43-0. In the Jerseyville game, the Braves scored using three different offensive units.

Last week against Bethalto Coolidge got on the board first, in the first quarter, as Vangel Terzovski leaped into the endzone from four yards out. In all, Terzovski scored eight points on the day as he scored a two-point conversion.

The Braves made it 14-0 as Terry Stanley scampered into the endzone from 11 yards out in the second quarter. Stanley also scored eight points as he carried it in for a two-point conversion.

Coolidge's quarterback, Brett Broadwater, scored the Braves' third touchdown later in the second quarter as he escaped Bethalto's defense to dash 64 yards for the TD.

The Braves' defense continued to gnaw at Bethalto as Charlie Sparks added two more points to the Braves' tally, scoring on a safety in the second quarter.

The Braves scored their fourth and final touchdown in the third quarter as Danny Hutchins dashed across the goal line after successfully receiving a Broadwater pass. The play covered 43 yards.

Yesterday against Jerseyville, the Braves wasted little time in getting on the board.

On the opening kickoff, Jerseyville fumbled. Coolidge recovered and three plays later, within the first minute of the game, Broadwater dashed in from 15 yards out for the score. Stanley made the two-point conversion.

The Braves made it 13-0 just five minutes later when Stanley broke away from Jerseyville's defense and dashed 45 yards for the TD. The ensuing kicking conversion was blocked.

With two minutes left in the first quarter, Broadwater scored again. This time he slipped in from 18 yards out. Terzovski, faked the kicking conversion and ran around the end for the two-point.

The Braves continued their onslaught as Stanley broke away from the pack at Coolidge's own 38 yard line. The 62-yard run and the conversion that followed made it 28-0.

At that point, the Braves were on a rampage. But as far as Randy Chapman was concerned, that wasn't enough. He galloped in from 37 yards out on the Braves' next possession to make it 34-0. Jason Smith passed to Mark Miller for the two-point conversion.

Following a scoreless third quarter, the Braves got their final score two and minutes in the fourth quarter. Using its third offense, the green unit, Vince Darnell capped a 37-yard drive with a four-yard touchdown run. Stanley converted the two-point to make it 43-0.

Braves' coach Keith Parker called the Coolidge victory a "demoralizing loss" for Jerseyville. "We don't like to run up the score, but we used three offensive units in there today. I hate to tell the guys to go in there and not try to score."

Grigsby gridders win

The Grigsby Junior High football team proved that consistency prevails last week as the Gators came back from a 12-0 halftime deficit to defeat Jerseyville Junior High 13-12.

Scoring for the Gators was George Jungel, a 120-pound slot back, who scampered across the goal line from 10 yards out. The ensuing extra point, by Mike Lane, missed.

The Gators tied the score at 12 apiece when Steve Donnelly, a 115 pound fullback, plunged across the goal line from three yards out.

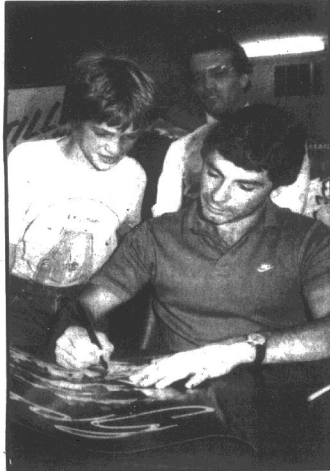

Lane broke the tie by successfully completing the PAT, giving the Gators the 13-12 lead and eventual win.

Gator coach John Sikora named Paul Millard, the defensive player-of-the-game. Says Sikora, "Millard is an integral part of our game. He does everything. He's out there all the time."

The Gators' next game is Oct. 5 against Roxana in a 15 yards out for the score. Stanley made the two-point conversion.

Over 40 dancercise class sign up

A new "over 40" dancercise class is now being formed at Granite City Racquetball Club, 3901 Stearns.

PATRONIZING. Pat Tilley, wide receiver for the St. Louis football Cardinals signs a poster last Monday evening for Jeff Kohler. Tilley, who was at Glik's in Bellemeor Shopping Plaza, autographed an estimated 250 posters, footballs, shoes and various other items during the two hours he was there. Not a yachtsmen? Appreciate America's Cup

The headlines in the St. Louis newspapers boasted of Bob Forsch's no-hit shutout of the Montreal Expos, but the national sports story Monday was the Australian's victory over the Americans in the World Series of yachting, the America's Cup.

The best of seven series went to the Aussie's 4-3, for the first time in the Cup's history which dates back to 1851.

It was the seventh game of the series, and the American's were trailing in the bottom of the ninth. And, in the bullpen was the Aussie's Ace, the maverick winged keel.

In the end, it was the "Aussie's Ace" which got the save. When it was over, the America's Cup had become the Australia's Cup and the trophy which has found lodging in the New York Yacht Club for more than a century, will instead be docked in the Royal Perth Yacht Club in Perth, Australia. It will remain there until late this decade when the Aussie's will have to defend their title.

The Aussie victory puts an end to the longest winning streak in sports history — 132 years. Which is worth noting in itself.

Admittedly, I'm not a seaman and I've only been on a yacht twice, to travel to and from Catalina Island when vacationing. But, after that brief trip, it was easy to see how men can fall in love with the sea.

Yes, but who cares about yachting in the Midwest? Admittedly, there aren't many places here to do much sailing and I've heard more than just a few people talk about the America's Cup with a tone of apathy in their voice. My only response to that is that they lack appreciation for all sports. They need to open their minds to things they haven't tried. I enjoy nearly all sports, but actually compete in only a handful now. But, I've learned to appreciate all sports.

Sports on the Run

The American's Cup is to sports what Bach or Tchaikovsky is to music. Admittedly, I couldn't stand a month of classical music. Similarly, a month of yachting, nothing but yachting, would drive me crazy. But just as I enjoy listening to classical music once or twice a week, so was the brief interlude of yachting reports welcome.

Appreciate. Appreciate.

St. Paul spikers down Red Devilettes, 15-7, 15-11

Venice was defeated by St. Paul 15-7 and 15-11 in volleyball Wednesday.

Before the game, Coach Annetta Ohlendorf was confident of her team's ability. "We have played three conference games and won all three, I think we can win this one."

St. Paul took an early 7-1 lead in the first game. The Venice took advantage of St. Paul miscues to make the score 7-3, but then St. Paul took over again.

Venice managed to score only four more points, as the Vikings dominated the game.

The Vikings again took a big 9-1 lead at the beginning of the second game. Things looked bleak for Venice but they didn't go down without a fight.

After a Venice time out and pep talk, the Red Devils began to chip away at the Vikings lead. They scored three points coming within five points of St. Paul, before losing the serve. Venice held St. Paul scoreless, regained the serve and gained two more points on the Vikings. St. Paul regained possession of the ball and managed to score a point to make the score 10-6 before Venice took charge again.

A sizzling, cross-court serve brought the Red Devils within one point of the Vikings. After another time out, Venice tied the game 10-10, then took the lead when St. Paul knocked the ball out of play. After coming back from an eight point deficit, the Red Devils lost the serve, and had their hopes shattered. St. Paul promptly scored five points and won the game 15-11. The defeat lowered Venice's record to 4-2. Venice will try to regain their winning form Thursday when they play at Assumption.

SENIOR GIRL SCOUTS and members of the Mariner Ship Lorelei are seeking new members to participate in the Lorelei Ship program. Organized a year ago, the group competed in canoeing, swimming and landskills this summer and captured a second place award. They will host a recruiting day from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. this Sunday at the Kinder residence. Front row from left, Karrie Winters, Laura Forster, Anne Voyles, Becky Polovchik, Back row, Dawn Justice, Karrie Forzar, Diane Oliver and Jill Kinder. Mrs. Diane Kinder serves as skipper of the Lorelei.

Mariner Ship Lorelei seeks new members

The Mariner Ship Lorelei is looking for a few good swimmers. Mariners are Senior Girl Scouts in grades 8-12, who have a special interest in swimming, canoeing, and sailing. Girls who wish to become Mariners must have strong swimming skills, preferably the equivalent of the Red Cross Swimmer level, according to Mrs. Diane Kinder, skipper. The Lorelei Ship is only one year old but has already earned the reputation as a strong contender at the annual Mariner's Gam. Each August all Mariner ships in the St. Louis area meet for competition in canoeing, swimming, and landskills.

Landskills are written tests in first aid, sailing, seamanship, lifesaving, canoeing, Morse code, semaphore, knots, flag etiquette, and compass points. This year, their first, the Lorelei captured second place. The girls earned the traveling trophy for knowledge and skills, and Jill Kinder earned the Special Award trophy for spirit and leadership.

Art Heinricher of Art's Fleetwing Service sponsor the group. In order to make their ship bigger and stronger for next year's Mariner Gam, the girls are recruiting new members. In particular, eighth and ninth graders. Members of the ship include Jill Kinder, (officer of the Deck), Karrie Winters (Boatswain), Diane Oliver, Karrie Forzar, Becky Polovchik, Anne Voyles, Dawn Justice, Susan Begde, Laura Forster, and Chris Smith. The skipper of the Lorelei is Diana Kinder.

A recruitment meeting will be held at the Kinder residence from 1:30 to 3:30 this Sunday, Oct. 2. Girls who are interested in becoming a Mariner should call either Jill Kinder, 876-5007, or Karrie Winters, 877-5365. Mrs. Kinder explained.

Lambda Theta Chapter to meet on Saturday

The Lambda Theta Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, an Honor Society in Education, will hold its first meeting of the year from 10 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 1st, at the Granite City Township Hall, 2050 Delmar Ave.

The program for this meeting, which will be a potluck luncheon, is entitled, "The Role of the School in Children's Nutrition." Ardythe Browning, Director of School Food Services in Alton Community Unit School District No. 11, will be the guest speaker.

This will be the first in a series of programs which pertain to "Nutrition and Intellectual Development," the theme chosen for 1983-1984 by the executive committee of the chapter.

Kappa Delta Pi is an International Honor Society in Education, founded in 1909 at the University of Illinois. The purpose of the society is to recognize outstanding contributions to education.

Lambda Theta Chapter, which is sponsored by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, was formed in 1967 in order "to maintain a high degree of professional growth by honoring achievement in educational work." The University Counselor for the Chapter is Dr. Regan Carpenter, Professor of Elementary Education at SIUE.

The chapter officers for 1983-1984 are: Dr. Jean Hall, president; Betty Maloney, vice-president; Barbara Fleming, secretary; Dr. Doni Michael, treasurer; and Judy Maxson, historian.

The five yearly meetings will be held in Edwardsville, Fairview Heights, Alton, and Collinsville, at addition to the meeting on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Odd Kongevold

Kongevold-Jorgensen

An out of town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Kristy Marie Jorgensen of Asan Farsund, Norway, formerly of Granite City, and Odd Reidar Kongevold, Kirkemysveien 26, Vanse, Norway, on June 18 at the Vanse Church in Norway.

The Rev. Martinsen officiated at the 4 o'clock afternoon ceremony in the church which is 900 years old and also is the church where the bride's father was confirmed.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Edvin (Violet Ruth) Jorgensen, 4404 Highway 162, Granite City. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Solveig (Arne) Kongevold of Asthassal Vanse, Norway.

Guests were received at a reception held at the Festsalen Borhaug. The newlywed couple took a wedding trip to Denmark and the bride is now residing at Kirkemysveien 26, 4560 Vanse, Norway.

They plan to visit this area during the summer of 1984.

Attending the bride as honor attendant was Greta Targersen, Siv Kongevold, a niece of the groom, was the flower girl.

The groom chose Ole Johnny Andreassen as best man and his nephew, Idar Johan Kongevold, was the ring bearer.

A 1982 graduate of Granite City High School North, the bride is employed as a beautician at Arild's Fryso Salon in Farsund, Norway.

The groom graduated from Farsund High School, an Electrician School, Ships Electrician School and Telephone Technicians School. He is working as a lineman for the Norwegian Telephone Co. in Farsund and is a member of Norsk Teltsest Farbud. He also served 15 months with the Norwegian Air Force.

Newspaper program topic of PTA meet

Al Wilson, newly appointed principal of Marshall School, spoke at the first PTA meeting on his newspaper program which is used as a teaching tool for the students.

Those attending acclaimed his talk and answered a question and answer session at the conclusion of his presentation.

To open the meeting President Joan Stark led the group in the pledge of allegiance and then introduced the PTA officers for the 1983-84 year. The principal presented the school staff for the forthcoming year, after his talk.

Entertainment for the night was provided by the "King's Kids" puppets who sang a variety of songs and performed a play.

The president announced forthcoming events of interest at the school to include RIF (Reading Is Fundamental) walk in October, open house in November and a calendar fund raiser for the PTA.

Refreshments were served later in the school cafeteria. The meeting will be on Oct. 18, it was noted.

Avon Collectors Show set Sunday

The 13th annual Collectors Show and Sale, sponsored by First Avon Collectors Club of St. Louis, will be held Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 1-2, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days.

Guests and dealers are invited to attend the exhibit at the Heritage House North, 1-270 and New Halls Ferry Road, St. Louis.

Admission is free and there will be prizes awarded during the day and also at the banquet Saturday night. Tickets for the banquet may be purchased during the day.

There will be 50 tables set up for the displays of Avon bottles and many rare collector articles priced from 25 cents to $300, according to Clarine Coggin of Granite City, show committee member.

"We expect seven members of the National Board and dealers from 13 states to be present," the chairman added.

An encyclopedia and price guide book on Avon products compiled by Bud Hastings will also be shown during the two day project.

LEGAL SECRETARIES SET BOSSES' NIGHT

The Madison County Legal Secretaries Association annual Bosses' Night will be Oct. 4 at the Holiday Inn in Alton.

The theme for the evening will be "9 to 5." The boss of the year and the secretary of the year will be announced at the dinner. Carla Markel and Roberta Dipazo are serving as co-chairman for this event.

The local association is affiliated with the Illinois and National Association of Legal Secretaries.

Historical exhibit at two local banks

The Old Six Mile Historical Society will hold an exhibit of historical items relating to this region at two local banks on Friday, Sept. 30.

Displays will be shown at the American Heritage Bank in American Village Shopping Center from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and at the Colonial Bank, Pontoon and Maryville roads from 4 to 7 p.m.

Among the articles will be ledgers from Mr. Rode's grocery stores in Venice and Nantooki, a map entitled, "The French in Illinois 1786," a powder horn from pioneer days, a bugle from the Civil War, Illinois maps of the 1800's, quilts and kitchen equipment of the 19th century.

Wearing apparel to be displayed will be clothes worn by Louise Willard, a homemaker when she came to America in 1892 and a white dress, with lace inserts, which belonged to Winnie Shumway's mother at the turn of the century.

"Personnel will be present at both locations to describe the articles and to offer membership participation to persons interested in preserving the history of this geographical area, according to Mrs. Lillian Delp, membership committee chairman for the organization.

Anna Miller and Randall Presswood

Presswood-Miller

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip K. Miller, 3245 Fehling Road, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Anna Marie Miller to Randall E. Presswood.

Parents of the prospective groom are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Presswood, 2644 E. 28th St.

Miss Miller graduated in 1980 from Granite City High School South and is employed as a local secretary at R. Rowland & Co., Inc., St. Louis.

Her fiancé was graduated from Granite City High School South in 1977 and attended Belleville Area College for one year and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for two years. He now works as a heavy equipment operator at Metro East Levy and Sanitation District.

The betrothed couple plan to be married on Nov. 19 at St. John Church in Granite City.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Haug, 2641 Benton St., are announcing the birth of their second child on Sept. 25 at Christian Northwest Hospital.

They have selected the name of Carla Jane for the new arrival who weighed 7 pounds, 14½ ounces. She has a 4-year old brother, Jason. The grandmother, Mrs. Charles Haug, also resides in Granite City.

ART EXHIBIT AT BAC

A showing of paintings by Scott Bramsted of Mascoutah will open at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 3, at Belleville Area College. The exhibit will be in the college's second floor gallery through October. The public is invited to the opening and also may view the show from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays.

Sweet Adelines to observe 'Share a Song Week' here

"Share a Song and a Smile With Sweet Adelines" will be the theme when more than 32,000 women throughout the world will "Share a Song" with hospital patients, senior citizens, shoppers and civic groups. Share a Song week coincides with the 30th anniversary of the founding of Sweet Adelines, Inc.

The Collinsville Chapter, 1983 regional chorus champions, one of more than 700 chapters of this organization dedicated to the teaching and performance of four-part harmony, barbershop style, will join in this annual "Share a Song" event when they entertain at the Faith Country Side Homes in Highland on Tuesday, Oct. 4, at 7 p.m.

The Collinsville Chorus,

under the direction of George Holtzsch, immediately following their performance will hold a rehearsal at the Evangelical United Church of Christ, Highland. All area ladies are invited to join them for an evening of fun beginning at 7:30 p.m.

For further information, interested persons may call 345-8974, 1-856-4646 or 931-1409.

BURGLARY WARRANT

Charles F. Valle, 29, of 2605 W. 22nd St., halted by police in Kirkpatrick Homes, was charged with driving with an expired license and also was booked on a mid-summer burglary warrant early this week.

Business economists optimistic

This will continue to be a relatively good year economically, and 1984 will be even better, the National Association of Business Economists (NABE) has forecast after a survey of its members.

The survey, presented Wednesday at the 25th annual meeting of the 4,000-member organization, included these predictions:

Unemployment by the time of next year's presidential election will be down to 8.5 percent, from 9.5 today.

Auto sales in 1984 will total nearly 10 million units, including imports, and housing starts will be near 1.7 million. Comparable 1983 figures are 9.1 for auto sales, and 1.6 million housing starts.

Inflation will continue at about 5 percent.

Dr. Nicholas Filippello, vice-president, said in presenting the survey results, "The consumer has been the star of 1983, and our members see that role largely continuing in 1984."

"The predicted growth next year in real consumer spending is 4.3 percent — about the same as that expected for the overall economy and down only slightly from the 4.5 percent expected this year."

"Turning to the longer-term outlook, many of those polled expressed concern that high federal budget deficits and attendant crowding out of funds availability could result in a premature end to the recovery. In fact, 41 percent said the next business recession will begin in 1985."

Filippello, who is also chief economist for Monsanto in St. Louis, said the forecasters were "split" on the outlook for interest rates. A plurality expects rates to move "moderately higher" by the end of this year and moderately higher again by the end of 1984.

"Still," he said, "a significant 30 percent expect rates to drift moderately lower, with more than 20 percent seeing little change. The clear message is that the overwhelming majority expects neither sharply higher nor lower interest during the coming year."

Seventy-six percent said they regard current fiscal policy as "too easy," reflecting concern about the size of projected budget deficits.

Test date for high school students set

High school sophomores and juniors currently may register for the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test of the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT-NMQST).

Those students in the upper quarter of their class are particularly being encouraged to take the test.

The test will be administered Oct. 18 at Granite City High School.

By taking the test, juniors can enter the competition for National Merit scholarships. They also may then participate in the College Board's Student Search Service, which gives students an opportunity to hear from colleges they might not otherwise investigate.

The test measures verbal and mathematical aptitude and gives students an opportunity to find out what the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) is like, according to James R. Thompson, a counselor at the high school.

She stated the test is an important step in making college plans.

With their score reports, students will receive a copy of "About Your PSAT-NMQST Scores," a booklet containing information about estimating SAT scores, finding out where to get and how to use detailed information on colleges and financial aid, and planning for financial aid.

Students should register at the high school Guidance Office before and after school, according to Mrs. Kopsky. Student bulletins will be available upon payment of the $4.75 testing fee.

The test is co-sponsored by the College Board and the National Merit Scholarship Corp.

Lemon law is signed

A law effective Jan. 1, 1984, will require manufacturers of new cars to provide the buyer with either a replacement or a refund if the seller cannot correctly fix the car under express warranties in a reasonable amount of time.

"For anyone who buys a 'lemon,' this bill will help them get fairly compensated for their purchase. If you buy a toaster that doesn't work, you can take it back and get one that does or get a refund. That same principle should apply to cars," Gov. James R. Thompson said.

The new law states that a seller has made a "reasonable number of attempts to bring the auto into conformity with its express warranties within the warranty period if the car has been in for the same repair four or more times without success, or has been out of service because of repairs for 30 or more business days. Car buyers will have to go through certain informal dispute settlement procedures first if the procedures are offered by the manufacturer, and if the consumer has been given adequate notice of their existence.

The law applies to model years following the Jan. 1 effective date.

'Marriage Plus' seminar scheduled

Don-Life Fellowship, 1203 Vandall St., Collinsville, will hold the complete "Marriage Plus" seminar presented by the Rev. Ray Mossholder, beginning Sunday, Oct. 2, and continuing through Friday, Oct. 7.

Sunday services are at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m., Monday and Tuesday services are set at 9:30 a.m. and all evening services Monday through Friday will be at 7:30 o'clock.

Rev. Mossholder is a former disc jockey and CBS newscaster. He has been on 700 Club, 100 Huntleigh Street, Trinity Broadcasting Network and Jim and Tammy Bakker of the PTL Television network call the minister. "One of the closest friends and one of the most popular guests on their television show."

In 1977 the minister and his family lived and ministered in New Zealand where his ministry has been compared to that of Smith Wigglesworth, The Misionary of Social Welfare in New Zealand was so impressed by the number of divorces cancelled because of the Marriage Plus Seminar he asked Rev. Mossholder to appear before Parliament and tell his secret of success in this field.

REV. MOSSHOLDER

The seminar is an in depth look at what the Bible says about marriage. Such subjects as finances, rearing children and sex in marriage are covered as well as the Christian Wife and Christian Husband.

Pastor Dennis Amnden extends an invitation to the public to attend this seminar. "It is not only a seminar for those who are married, it is a study in relationships," Rev. Amnden added.

Christian Education seminar set Oct. 11

The Christian Bookstore of Fairview Heights, in cooperation with the David C. Cook Publishing Company, Elgin, is sponsoring Special Christian Education Seminars, Tuesday, Oct. 11, in the St. Clair room of the Buckley Restaurant, Ramada Inn, Highway 159, Fairview Heights.

Seminar leader will be Al Jones, senior consultant with his ministry in 1964 as the Minister of Education and Youth at the First Baptist Church of Spokane, Wash., and has served in this same capacity in churches in Michigan and Texas.

There will be two sessions. The morning session, a breakfast meeting from 8 to 10 a.m., is open to pastors, directors of Christian Education, and Sunday School superintendents. Reservations are necessary.

and may be made by calling the Bookstore at 398-4489. There will be a limit of two reservations from each church represented for the breakfast meeting.

Subject of the morning seminar will be How To Keep Your Sunday School Healthy And Growing. A video presentation by Karen and David Mains "What Makes a Christian Family Christian" will be featured.

The evening meeting, for which no reservations are necessary, will be from 7 to 9 p.m. All Christian Education workers are invited to attend.

Topics for the evening are: Planning And Evaluating Your Sunday School and Six Ways To Bring Your Sunday School Life. There will be refreshments and no charge will be made. Some introductory material will be given to all who attend.

Nameoki Presbyterian World Awareness Week

"World in an Uproar" will be the message in the 10:45 a.m. morning worship service at Nameoki Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road, according to Rev. Don F. Pierson.

The day will open with a study course for adults at 9:30 a.m. entitled, "The Christian Faith in the 20th Century," led by Pastor Pierson. Sunday School classes for all ages are also available at the same time.

The ushers for the morning worship service will be dressed in ethnic costumes to celebrate the day. Members are asked to wear clothing that indicates the place of their origins. World-World Community will close the 10:45 a.m. service.

A "World Awareness Family Potluck Dinner" will be held at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 2. Tom and Norbert Clayton, lay persons who just completed a year as "Volunteers-in-Mission" in India, will share their experiences. Members and friends are asked to bring ethnic dishes and to again wear ethnic clothing if possible. Food for the congregation's Crisis Center will also be brought by members.

Mrs. Dallas (Mary) Dene and Mrs. William (Nona) Corzilius are coordinating the event, and will be assisted by the Deacons.

A Orientation Session for the parents of Communicant age young people will be held Tuesday, Oct. 4, at 7 p.m. in the pastor's study. The Communicants' Class for seventh, eighth, and ninth graders will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 8th, the minister added.

The "Shared Ministry" approach to Christian discipleship is highlighted by the Session Teams led by the Elders of the congregation, explained Rev. Pierson. The teams and team leaders are responsible for the ministry and mission of the church; they will meet Wednesday, Oct. 4th at 8 p.m.

The Westminster Youth Fellowship will conduct a "Lock-In" this Friday, Sept. 30 at 7 p.m. in the continuing education of the members will be highlighted in the School for Christian Faith to be held at the Webster Groves Presbyterian Church beginning Oct. 16th.

Bethany Class officers elected

The Bethany Class of Emmanuel Baptist Church elected Virginia Arakaki president of the group.

Others elected were Evelyn Sadler, vice president and Kathy Sargent, secretary and treasurer. "Appointed to serve were Hilda McEasters and Ann Bulander. Eva Godwin was appointed cheer chairman. The class met in home of Mrs. Marvel Walker, 2161 Dawn Place.

The opening prayer was offered by Barbara Mullis. Mrs. Arakaki conducted the business portion of the meeting. Kathy Sargent read the secretary's report. Mrs. Walker, class teacher, presented a devotional reading, entitled "Abraham Followed the King."

The meeting was closed with a prayer conducted by Hilda McEasters.

A potluck luncheon was served by the hostess. Kathy Sargent, 1163 Wanda St., will host the Oct. 18 meeting to be followed by a potluck luncheon.

The devotional reading will be given by Mrs. Mullis.

DAY OF RENEWAL FOR ILL AND HANDICAPPED

Victims Missionaries at the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows will celebrate their monthly day of renewal Saturday in the Visitors' Center at 800 W. Ill. Rt. 15 beginning at 10:30 a.m. The Victim Missionaries, a spiritual movement for the physically handicapped and chronically ill, conduct the monthly renewal day on the first Saturday of each month.

Fr. Bob Reitelmeier of Holy Guardian Angels parish in St. Louis will be the principal celebrant. Theme for the day is "Talents As Gift." The 7th and 8th grade classes of Holy Guardian Angels School will act out the Gospel of the Mass and provide musical accompaniment.

The congregation and area friends are invited to attend and bring a covered dish for the social event, church of friends added.

EVANGELIST.

Rev. Don Pegram of Newport News, Va., will lead special revival services at Mount Zion General Baptist Church, 21st and Benton streets, beginning Sunday, Oct. 10, 4:45 a.m. and continuing through Oct. 5. Evening services will start at 7 p.m., according to the Rev. Donald Richmond, host pastor.

Film showing at Bethesda Baptist

A motion picture release of International Prison Ministry entitled, "Changed Lives in San Quentin" will be shown at Bethesda Baptist Church, 3055 Nameoki Drive, at 7 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 2, and 7:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 3, according to the Rev. Luther Abbott.

Actually filmed inside the prison, the documentary features the stories of four notorious criminals. Interviews conducted by Art Linkletter and the director of IPM, Chaplain Ray, focus on rehabilitation as a result of conversion to Christianity.

From inside the gas chamber Jerry Graham says, "I came very close to ending it all right here." In stark contrast to his life of crime, he now directs a ranch for abused children and James Williams served time in San Quentin after a gun battle with police. Now he is employed by a criminal justice organization teaching men "the way to go out," as he puts it.

Another changed life is George Meyer. Al Capone's favorite driver. Now 74, he counsels teenagers about the evils of drug abuse. Jack Burbridge, once an enforcer for organized crime, is now a preacher. The film concludes with a look inside the gas chamber, the host pastor explains.

Concert Sunday at First Baptist

The First Baptist Church of Granite City, will present a St. Lawrence, Fla., at the morning and evening services on Sunday, Oct. 1, at 10:40 and 7 p.m.

The Staleneckers are a well known gospel singing group. The evening service will have the Staleneckers in concert bringing contemporary and traditional gospel music, according to the host pastor.

Philippians 1:28... "For ye to you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake."

Multitudes of people in times of crisis have called on Christ for help. There is no doubt that they have been helped. However, it seems that after coming to the Lord for help, there will be no more trials. Not so, my friend. There will still be some hard times.

If you continue to serve God, to praise Him, and give thanks in all things, you may well hear Him say one day, "Well done."

Trust Him. Today.

'Marriage Plus' seminar scheduled

Non-Life Fellowship, 1203 Vandalla St., Collinsville, will hold the complete "Marriage Plus" seminar presented by the Rev. Ray Mossholder, beginning Sunday, Oct. 2, and continuing through Friday, Oct. 7.

Sunday services are at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m., Monday and Tuesday services are set at 9:30 a.m. and all evening services Monday through Friday will be at 7:30 o'clock.

Rev. Mossholder is a former disc jockey and CBS newscaster. He has been on 700 Club, 100 Huntleigh Street, Trinity Broadcasting Network and Jim and Tammy Bakker of the PTL Television network call the minister, "One of their closest friends and one of the most popular guests on their television show."

In 1977 the minister and his family lived and ministered in New Zealand where his ministry has been compared to that of Smith Wigglesworth. The Minister of Social Welfare in New Zealand was so impressed by the number of divorces cancelled because of the Marriage Plus Seminar he asked Rev. Mossholder to appear before Parliament and tell the secret of success in this field.

Circle members assisted with a potluck dinner Sunday given for the new minister, the Rev. Richard Hunt and his family, and Tuesday the association meeting was held at 1 p.m. at the church.

Residents of Colonnades Nursing Home who celebrate birthdays this month were honored at a party given Wednesday.

Announcement was also made that the circle has been assigned a new child by the Christian Children's Fund. Her name is Alexandra Rueda Renjifo of Bolivia and the members will help support her with regular contributions through the fund, the chairman explained.

The financial report was included and explained by the treasurer, Mrs. Beeler.

Final plans for the annual holiday bazaar were discussed noting the project will be Saturday, Oct. 1, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the church. Food will also be available throughout the fund raiser.

The October meeting will be hosted by Mrs. Beeler and Mrs. Ella Wade, it was announced. The session closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Calvary Baptist to fete Harters

A potluck dinner will be served at 1 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 2, at Calvary Baptist Church, 3600 Washington Ave., to honor the Steve Harters family, according to church officers.

Steve Harters has served the church as Music Director for three years and has been called to serve as associate pastor of Bethel Baptist Church in Troy, Ill.

He and his wife, Frances, are the parents of two boys, David and Bryan.

The congregation and area friends are invited to attend and bring a covered dish for the social event, church officers added.

As newsletters were distributed a discussion followed on information and announcements for the new season.

Christian Education seminar set Oct. 11

The Christian Bookstore of Fairview Heights, in cooperation with the David C. Cook Publishing Company, Elgin, is sponsoring Special Christian Education Seminars, Tuesday, Oct. 11, in the St. Clair room of the Buckley Restaurant, Ramada Inn, Highway 150, Fairview Heights.

Seminar leader will be Al Jones, senior consultant with David C. Cook, who began his ministry in 1964 as the Minister of Education and Youth at the First Baptist Church of Spokane, Wash., and has served in this same capacity in churches in Michigan and Texas.

There will be two sessions. The morning session, a breakfast meeting from 8 to 10 a.m., is open to pastors, directors of Christian Education, and Sunday School superintendents. Reservations are necessary.

Topics for the evening are: Planning And Evaluating Your Sunday School and Six Ways To Bring Your Sunday School To Life. There will be refreshments and no charge for the meal. Some introductory material will be given to all who attend.

Nameoki Presbyterian World Awareness Week

"World in an Uproar" will be the message in the 10:45 a.m. morning worship service at Nameoki Presbyterian Church, 1700 Rev. Don F. Pierson.

The day will open with a new study course for adults at 9:30 a.m. entitled, "The Christian Faith in the 20th Century," led by Pastor Pierson. Sunday School classes for all ages are also available at the same time.

The ushers for the morning worship service will be dressed in ethnic costumes to celebrate the day. Members are asked to wear clothing that indicates the place of their origin. World Wide Communion will close the 10:45 a.m. service.

Family Potluck Dinner will be held at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 2. Tom and Norretta Lay, lay persons who just completed a year as "Volunteers-in-Mission" in India will share their experiences. Members and friends are asked to bring ethnic dishes and to again wear ethnic clothing if possible. Food for the congregation's Crisis Center will also be brought by members.

The "Shared Ministry" approach to Christian discipleship is highlighted by the Session Teams led by the Elders of the congregation, explained Rev. Pierson. The teams and team leaders are responsible for the ministry and mission of the church; they will meet Wednesday, Oct. 4th at 8 p.m.

The Westminster Youth Fellowship will conduct a "Lock-In" this Friday, Sept. 30 at 7 p.m. Plans for the continuing education of the members will be highlighted in the School for Christian Faith to be held at the Webster Groves Presbyterian Church beginning Oct. 16th.

Bethany Class officers elected

The Bethany Class of Emmanuel Baptist Church elected Virginia Arakakia president of the group.

Others elected were Evelyn Sadler, vice president and Kathy Sargent, secretary and treasurer.

Appointed to serve were Hilda McMasters and Ann Bulander. Eva Godwin was appointed cheer chairman.

The class met in home of Mrs. Marvel Walker, 2161 Dawn Place.

The opening prayer was offered by Barbara Mullis. Mrs. Arakakia conducted the business portion of the meeting. Kathy Sargent read the secretary's report.

Mrs. Walker, class teacher, presented a devotional reading, entitled "Abraham Followed the King."

The meeting was closed with a prayer conducted by Hilda McMasters.

A pot luck salad luncheon was served by the hostess, Kathy Sargent, 1163 Wanda St., will host the Oct. 18 meeting to be followed by a pot luck luncheon.

The devotional reading will be given by Mrs. Mullis.

Variety concerts set by symphony

Six variety concerts featuring popular tunes will be performed by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra this season.

Three programs will celebrate the spirit of the Swing Era, including the series premiere concert with the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra. Buddy Morrow will conduct the Nov. 15 event. Guy Lombardo's Royal Canadians, with Art Mooney directing, will perform on Valentines' Day, Feb. 14. Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians will entertain March 12.

Roger Williams will appear with the symphony Jan. 17. Williams is known for numerous songs, including his recording of "Autumn Leaves," which sold four million copies.

The Vienna Choir Boys, an ensemble of 24 chorists, will sing Feb. 28. They also will appear at Powell Symphony Hall Feb. 27 in a special single event. Wrapping up the variety series will be Stars of the Lawrence Welk Show, featuring accordionist Myron Floren and vocalists Norma Zimmer and Joe Fennedy.

Season tickets for the series are priced at $28.50 to $85. Student tickets are offered at half price. Special group discounts are also available. Those interested in additional information may call 314-533-2500.

Space talk to celebrate NASA's 25th anniversary

Space agency professionals will mark the 25th anniversary of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) with a day-long seminar Saturday at St. Louis Community College - Florissant Valley.

The program is designed for educators and others interested in current applications of space age technology. There will be an opportunity to talk to space technicians and managers.

Those attending will receive a kit of resource materials and instructional documents. Registration is $35, which includes dinner at the Magriotti Airport Hotel.

Highlighting the day will be a speech by James Oberger, an electrical engineer at NASA's Mission Control in Houston, Texas, where he mans a console during Space Shuttle missions.

Also participating will be Robert Lottman, a member of NASA's Space Station Task Force. The task force is charged with planning a permanent space station.

Those interested in more information or registering may call the continuing education office at Florissant Valley at 314-585-4444. The college is located at 3400 Pershall Road in Ferguson, Mo.

Speech-language pathology workshop slated at SIUE

A workshop for employed professionals in the field of speech-language pathology and audiology is scheduled Saturday, Oct. 8, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The workshop, sponsored annually by the department of speech pathology and audiology, will focus on the topic, "Minimal Word Pairs: Therapy and The Personal Computer."

Stephen E. Blache, Ph.D., will present the workshop through lectures, handouts, slides and microcomputers. No computer experience is required.

Blache is an associate professor at Carbondale. He teaches courses in phonological development, diagnosis and treatment, computer applications, and phonetics, and is the author of "The Acquisition of Distinctive Features."

Pre-registration is required. A registration fee of $20 must be made by Monday, Oct. 3.

Participants will meet in the Testing Center at 9 a.m. The session will conclude at 3:30 p.m. Free parking will be available in Lot B. For additional information, interested persons may contact Dixie Engleman at 1-692-3662.

Master teachers to be named

The Governor's Master Teacher program Advisory Committee is preparing to identify outstanding teachers in Illinois.

"The creation of this panel fulfills a pledge made last year to promote teachers who have unique, special teaching skills that set them apart. This committee will work to set criteria by which we will identify those teachers, reward them and seek to share their talents with others in the education community," Gov. James R. Thompson said in naming the 12-member committee.

It includes Margaret Blackshire of Springfield, a former Madison teacher. Once the committee sets the criteria, the selection process will consist of nominating teachers at levels across the state through regional committees.

The program is to be administered by the State Board of Education. The selection committee will include teacher employee group representatives, regional superintendents, principals, parents and school board members.

Named as chairman of the advisory group is James Parker, chairman of the department of Education Leadership at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. Parker, department chairman since 1981, has taught at SIUC for 12 years and has been a teacher at public and private schools in several states.

Mrs. Blackshire is a staff member of the Illinois Federation of Teachers.

Upcoming events

Entertainment

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will feature a violin and cello trio in two performances at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 1, and 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 2, at Powell Symphony Hall, 718 North Grand Blvd., St. Louis. There will be a pre-concert lecture at 7:30 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are $8 to $24. Those interested in further information may call 314-534-1700.

Tour

A tour of 11 historic turn-of-the-century homes will be given from noon to 6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 2, as part of the Alton Area Landmarks Association annual house tour. In the event of rain, the tour will be Oct. 9. Tickets will be sold at the Landmarks Visitors Center, 212 State St., Alton. Admission is $3. Those wishing to purchase advance tickets or needing information may call 1-465-0782.

Bazaars

Holiday gift items and dinner will be offered at the Christmas Bazaar at the First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue. Besides Christmas items, the bazaar will sell other crafts and toys. A clown will greet children. Homemade soup, chicken salad, tuna salad and four kinds of pie will be available. The food and gift booths will be open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 1. Proceeds will be donated to the missions, church rehabilitation, Christmas baskets and the Salvation Army Tree of Lights.

A country store, books and crafts sale will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 1, at the Wilbur Trimpie Junior High School, 910 Second St., Bethalto. The event is being sponsored by the Metro-East Chapter of RFD - Remove Intoxicated Drivers. Those interested in more information about the sale or the organization may call 931-4679.

Flea market

A fund-raising flea market to raise contributions for St. Elizabeth Medical Center patient Craig Osterburg will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 1, at the Tri-City American Legion Hall, 1899 State St. The legion is donating its services and the hall for the event. An assortment of items will be offered for sale. Those wishing to give objects to the flea market may call Bev Motil after 6 o'clock nightly at 1-288-9294.

Senior activities

A cake and ice cream social will be hosted by the Granite City Council of Senior Citizens from 7 to 10 p.m. Monday, Oct. 3, at the Granite City Township Hall, 3060 Delmar Ave. Games also will be featured. All area seniors, 55 and older, are being invited to attend. The event is not limited to township residents. Admission is free.

Talk and support

A free seminar on public housing and utilities will be conducted from 9 a.m. to noon Friday, Sept. 30, at the Venice Recreation Center, 323 Broadway, Venice. Public housing residents of Granite City, Madison and Venice are being invited. Evictions, repairs, utility shutoffs and grievance procedures will be among the topics. The Land of Lincoln Legal Assistance Foundation will present the event.

"The Advantages of Breastfeeding" will be the topic at the Monday, Oct. 3, meeting of the La Leche League of Granite City. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. at 36 Eduardo Drive. This is the first in a series of four discussion meetings which will offer encouragement and breastfeeding information to interested mothers. Those wishing more information may call 931-6774 or 876-2158.

Education

The registration deadline for the American College Testing program (ACT) to be administered at Granite City High School next month will be Friday, Sept. 30. The test will be given Oct. 29. ACT scores are required for admission to most colleges and universities. The October test is intended primarily for seniors and those not currently enrolled in school. Another test will be given in April for high school juniors. The fee is $3.50. Those interested in further information may contact Sonya Anderson, coordinator of Pupil Personnel Services at Granite City High School.

The deadline for the Career Advancement Foundation Program for women 25 and older is Saturday, Oct. 1. The scholarship is sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club. To be eligible, candidates must currently be accepted by an accredited educational program. Scholarships range from $100 to $1,000 for one year. Interested persons may contact Joyce Bennington, 876-2224, for more information.

Blood drive

A community blood drive being sponsored by the Tri-City Chapter of the American Red Cross will be conducted from 2 to 7 p.m., Friday, Sept. 30, at the Red Cross Building, 21st Street and Edison Ave. The event is the local chapter's second annual drive. Those wishing to give blood are being asked to call the office at 452-7194 to be scheduled to shorten their wait. Donors, however, are welcome, even if not scheduled.

Road block

Members of the Association for the Protection of Animals will solicit donations from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Nameoki and Fehling roads to help fund the animal shelter being completed.

PLAN 2 SEMINARS ON MAINTENANCE

The SIUE Center for Management Studies will offer two maintenance seminars in this metropolitan area during the first week of October. A seminar dealing with the organization and management of a preventive maintenance program will be held Oct. 3 and 4 at King's Inn, 9600 Natural Bridge Road, St. Louis.

A seminar on inventory control methods will meet Oct. 5 and 6 at the same location. Both seminars are scheduled from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. each day. They are intended for directors of physical plants, plant engineers, facility managers, maintenance superintendents, industrial engineers, and others responsible for managing preventive maintenance program or inventory control.
